By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Inauguration of a permanent policy to combat unemployment throughout the country in future years is said authoritatively today to be one of the purposes of the administration in assembling in Washington a national conference on unemployment.
Primarily the administration is understood to be anxious to meet immediate unemployment needs and avert any hardship from that source during the coming winter, but beyond the remedy of the moment, it is asserted, the administration will look to the conference to develop a constructive program which can be followed in the succeeding years.Comprehensive statistical data. It is said, covering all phases of the problem is understood to have been prepared for the use of the conference by economic experts. This data, it was said, will give the latest authoritative information on the causes, places and times of unemployment in the country.SENATE COMMITTEE FAVORS

HAYTI, Mo., Sept. 15.—Dr. L. H.
Brannon, formerly widely known as
"Bull" Brannon, fullback on the St.
Louis University team about 14 years ago, under Eddie Cochems, was shot three times and seriously wounded here yesterday morning by E. S.
Jimmerson as he sat in a chair in a barber shop being shaved. If successful, the suit would result in the recovery by the State of the entire amount paid for the land, and if evidence warranted it, action then could be taken against the members of the former board.The investigation was undertaken by the Attorney-General at the request of Gov. Hyde, who stated that the land, for which $27,000 had been paid, was not worth more than $10,- 000.The action, according to Attorney-General Barrett, must be a suit in equity against the former owner of the property to rescind the sale as made to the former board. If successful, the suit would result in the recovery by the State of the entire amount paid for the land, and if evidence warranted it, action then
could be taken against the members of the former board.The first proceedings must be prefaced by a tender of the title to said Attorney-General Barrett, who said that he had threatened the life of Dr. Brannon when he was in the barber shop he had a revolver, but he was given no opportunity to de-here but moved recently to a home in the country, had accused Brannon and according to the latter had demanded $500 to drop the matter, but Dr. Brannon refused to give him the money. Jimmerson called at the doctor's office yesterday and afterward Dr. Brannon told friends that he had threatened the life of Jimmerson. When Dr. Brannon went to the barber shop he had a revolver, clared this question will not be disboth Japan and the United States hope for a direct settlement. It is understood the note from Washington regarding the agenda of the conference did not mention immigration, and it is believed Japan will not in-

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—Decision on whether to try Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, the film comedian, on a charge of murder or manslaughter in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, film actress, is expected to be made by District Attorney Brady today.Arbuckle has two separate charges pending against him. On a complaint sworn in Police Court by Mrs.
B. M. Delmont, friend of Miss Rappe, Arbuckle is charged with murder.
Following this charge on last Tuesday night, the grand jury indicted him for manslaughter and the true bill was returned before Superior Judge Shortall today.The indictment read:
"We, the grand jury, to wit:
That on or about the 9th of September, 1921, Roscoe Arbuckle did then and there wilfully, unlawfully and feloniously and without malice aforethought, kill Virginia
Rappe, a human being."Arbuckle was not in court.
Bail was set at $5000 cash or $10,- 000 bonds and the case assigned to the Court of Superior Judge Harold Louderback in the Hall of Justice.
Arbuckle will not be released from jail while the murder charge is pending against him, for under the California laws a person charged with murder cannot obtain bail.District Attorney Brady announced that he would confer with his assistants to determine on which of the applications for home force, which he would bring Arbuckle to trial.Coroner's Verdict Manslaughter.
The Coroner's inquest into the death of Miss Rappe was the most important feature of the Arbuckle case yesterday. A verdict charging manslaughter was returned.The verdict read:
"We the Coroner's jury find that the said Virginia Rappe, age 25; single, residence Los Angeles, came to her death on Sept. 9, at the Wakefield sanitarium from a ruptured bladder, contributing cause, peritonitis.""And we further find that said Virginia Rappe came to her death from peritonitis caused by a rupture of the urinary bladder, caused by the application of home force, which, from the evidence submitted, was applied by one Roscoe Arbuckle.""We, the undersigned jurors, therefore, charge the said Arbuckle with the crime of manslaughter."
"We, the undersigned jurors recommend that the District Attorney, Chief of Police, grand jury and prosecution officers take steps to prevent a further occurrence of affairs such as the one which caused this young woman's death, so that San Francisco will not be made the rendous of the debauchee and the gangster."A Minority Verdict.
Ben Boas, one of the nine jurors, returned a minority verdict in which he said that Miss Rappe's fatal injuries were caused by the application of some force "but I am unable to say who applied it."The Coroner's jury was out for more than three hours after an examination of witnesses which started last Monday. Arbuckle accepted the verdict with an attempt at composure. Other developments of the Arbuckle case yesterday were:
The finding of Betty Campbell, show girl, and one of those attending the party, after she was reported to have disappeared, and her interrogation by the District Attorney.The statement of Captain of Detectives Matheson that one of the girl witnesses who had attended the party had been asked to accept a bribe to withhold her testimony.The starting of an investigation by R. H. McCormack, Assistant United States Attorney-General, in charges that liquor was served at the Labor day party in Arbuckle's rooms in the St. Francis Hotel, where Miss Rappe was alleged to have died.HARDING SAYS HE

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—President yesterday, and going up the Hudson to West Point. With Mrs. Harding and friends he had a night trip the length of Long Island on the ocean side, and an early morning view of the Statue of Liberty, and the skyline of lower New York, which invariably delights tourists. Weather conditions were unsurpassed for observation.The Mayflower arrived at quarantine in time to see the early morning assembly of vessels from foreign ports awaiting the opening of the inspection station. A river pilot was taken aboard and the Presidential party looked forward to the trip past the whole Isle of Manhattan with a view of Riverside Drive, the Fallsades and Bear Mountain.The President hoped to review the cadets this afternoon and then see if he could do better at golf than he did yesterday at Southampton, where, he said: "Going out, I made eight holes in 42; then I blew up."The President was invited to play with members of the Senior Golf Association, now engaged in a tournament at Rye, N. Y., but in sending his regrets, said:

yet venerable, and, like all the rest of you, have no intention of ever be-

Sept. 20.By the Associated Press.
DUBLIN, Sept. 15.—Eamonn de Valera, in his reply to Premier Lloyd George, accepts the invitation to the proposed Iverness conference in the terms of the final paragraph of Lloyd George's last letter, but reaffirms Ireland's independence as a sovereign state and declares that only as representatives of such have the Irish negotiators any authority.Text of De Valera's Reply.
The text of the De Valera's reply follows:
"We are unhesitating in declaring our willingness 'to enter a conference to ascertain how the association of Ireland with the community of nations known as the British Empire can best be reconciled with Irish national aspirations.'"Our readiness to contemplate such an association was indicated in our letter of Aug. 20. We have accordingly summoned the Dail, that we may submit to it for ratification the names of the representatives it is our intention to propose. We hope that these representatives will find it possible to be at Iverness on the date you suggest, Sept. 20.In this final note we deem it our duty to reaffirm that our positions are and can only be as we have defined it throughout this correspondence. Our nation has formally declared its independence and recognizes itself as a sovereign state. It is only as representatives of that state and as its chosen guardians that we have authority or powers to act on behalf of our people.Consent of Governed.
As regards the principle of government by consent of the governed, in the very nature of things it must be the basis of any agreement that will achieve the purpose we have at heart—that is, the final reconciliation of our nation with Ireland.We have suggested no interpretation of that principle save its every-day interpretation, the sense, for example, in which it was understood by the plain men and women of the world when on Jan.
5, 1918, we said:
"The settlement of Europe must be based on such grounds of reason and justice as will give some promise of stability. Therefore it is that we feel that government with the consent of the governed must be the basis of any territorial settlement in this war."

BOULAWITHRAWS DEMAND ON LEAGUE IN CHILE DISPUTE

Three Experts Appointed to Decide on Competency of League to Act in Matters of This Kind.

CONTEST OVER DEPUTY JUDGESHIP Council and Assembly of League Name Conferees to Decide on One of Two Candidates in Race.

By the Associated Press.
GENEVA, Sept. 15.—Boulay withdrew her demand for the inclusion of her dispute with Chile in the agenda of the Assembly of the League of Nations. Experts will be given time in which to agree upon the question of the competency of the league to take up matters of this description. This action on the part of the Bolivian delegation was taken as a result of new instructions from the La Paz Government.

President Van Karmbeek appointed Vittorio Scialoja of Italy, Manuel Peratta of Costa Rica and Senor Uribe of Colombia as experts to give an opinion on the competency of the Assembly to discuss a revision of the treaty of 1904. They will render a report at the next meeting of the body.

Deputy Judgeship Contest.
Efforts to break the deadlock between the council of the league and the assembly over the election of the fourth deputy judge of the International Court of Justice were begun at the opening of today's session of the assembly. A conference committee was named to meet a similar body from the council and it is expected that the one remaining deputy judge to be chosen will be decided upon.

The system adopted for the election of judges required that 11 judges and four deputies should be chosen separately and simultaneously by the assembly and council. Those chosen by both were to be declared elected, but provision was made that when there was a difference between the lists of the assembly and the council, there must be a joint conference. This is a situation which the conferees are charged to meet.

When the first ballot was taken yesterday it was found that the leading nine names on the council and assembly lists had a majority, and these persons were declared elected. The balloting continued for the two other judges. Max Huber of Switzerland and Dr. Alejandro Alvarez of Chile being chosen by the assembly but not by the council.

Nyholm and Huber Elected.
Didrik Gjaltrud of Oslo, Norway, Denmark and Baron Descamps of Belgium were chosen by the council, but not by the assembly. The status of all four was that of unsuccessful candidates.

The voting continued in both bodies, the assembly choosing Nyholm of the council list and again voting heavily for Huber. Dr. Alvarez was therefore eliminated. The council again chose Nyholm, which brought about his election, and accepted the assembly's choice of Huber. This completed the list of judges and when balloting began for deputy judges Dr. Alvarez and Baron Descamps were again on the lists. Dr. Alvarez being chosen by the assembly and not by the council. In order to secure an agreement, successive ballots were taken, but the assembly stuck to Dr. Alvarez on three votes, while the council continued to vote for Baron Descamps.

Under the rules, if, after three ballots in both houses, there is a failure to secure an agreement, provision is made for the appointment of a committee of the two bodies which would agree upon a candidate acceptable to both. It appears today that a third man will be selected as a compromise.

The committee decided to submit the name of Judge F. V. Belchmann of Norway.

The three deputy judges so far definitely elected are: Demetris Natsios of Rumania, Michaelis Jovanovic of Yugoslavia and Mr. Wang of China.

OPPOSITION TO NEGROES BY KU KLUX KLAN IS EMPHASIZED BY THE "SEARCHLIGHT," THE UNACKNOWLEDGED ORGAN OF THE ORDER

Hectic Stories of Dangers to "White Supremacy" at the Hands of Jews, Japanese, Catholics and Negroes Fill Paper's Columns

Article XI.

The preceding article in this series gave abundant examples of the anti-Catholic propaganda employed by members of the Ku Klux Klan membership, despite the statements of "Emperor" Simmons in the "literature" of the Klan that the organization wages war on no creed, takes no part in any religious controversy, and concedes the right of every man to worship God as he pleases.

Similar failure of the Emperor's professions to coincide with the propaganda which salesmen employ appears in the case of the three other classes definitely set apart as ineligible in the "questionnaire" or entrance test of the order—Jews, foreign-born whites and Roman Catholics.

In the case of the negro this bias is self-evident. Simmons himself has voiced it in "The Ku Klux Creed" printed on page 2 of his order, and copyrighted sacred Kleran, or ritual.

"We avow the distinction," runs the third paragraph, "between the races of mankind as same has been decreed by the Creator, and we shall ever be true to the faithful maintenance of white supremacy and will strenuously oppose any compromise thereof in any and all things."

The phrase, "white supremacy," was the rallying cry of the original Ku Klux Klan of the Reconstruction period, and the modern counterfeit has clung to it to such an extent that at the present time the secret counterfeits of the order is "white" and the secret password is "supremacy," unless they have been changed recently.

"Racial" Klanism.
"Racial Klanism," says Simmons, on page 5, from his "Axioms of the Klan," is the basis of the Klan's mission, and it is the duty of the Klan to maintain white supremacy first, last and all the time. Faithfully protect our politics and society from the haughty, ambitious and arrogant aggressiveness of colored races who seek to mix their blood with the blood of our Government."

Recognizing the distinction between the races of mankind as they have been decreed by nature, and preserve unto death the blood of the white race from the foul touch of a lower stock. Keep Caucasian blood, society, politics and civilization pure."

The Imperial Wizard, like all true royalty, maintains an Imperial Chaplain who is quite as stalwart, if not arrogant, in his Caucasianism as the Emperor himself. The Imperial Chaplain is one Rev. Dr. Caley A. Ridley, otherwise identified as pastor of the Central Baptist Church of Atlanta and chairman of the Dixie Defense Committee, which has been active in Atlanta and other communities where leading white and negro citizens have been attempting to approach the South's race question in the "Atlanta plan" basis of interracial councils.

On July 23 the Searchlight, which the Post-Dispatch has linked up with the propagating forces of Ku Klux Klan, announced to its readers that Dr. Ridley had been engaged to contribute a weekly "column" to the sheet, and in the issue of Aug. 4, under the heading "Ridley's Ramblings," appears an article, "Americans Without a Hyphen," which deserves generous quotation.

"Hedged about and guarded by the horizon-line of the invisible Empire," begins the chaplain's verbal ramble, "stands the steeplest and most stately American Jew, and sent them out as flaming evangelists for home and country ever since David, a King, slept in Adullam's cave that he might be with his men and eventually save his homeland. CENTRAL AMERICA OBSERVING CENTENNIAL OF INDEPENDENCE

Celebrations Being Held in Many Cities of South and North America.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The hundredth anniversary of the Declaration of Independence of Central America is being celebrated today, throughout the Americas, the celebrations centering in Central America and extending to a number of cities in North and South America.

The principal celebration was in Guatemala City, where on Sept. 15, 1921, the proclamation was issued severing from the sovereignty of Spain, the peoples now composing the republics of Salvador, Honduras, Guatemala, Nicaragua and Costa Rica, and what is now the state of Chiapas, Mexico. The Guatemala City celebration began Monday and will continue until next Sunday.

By the Associated Press.
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 15.—An investigation of the explosion and fire yesterday at the Paine-Hirsch plant of the Atlantic Refining Company, in which 10 men were killed and a score injured, was ordered today by Director Courtney, of the Department of Public Safety. Several injured are in a serious condition and additional deaths are expected momentarily by hospital physicians.

It was the second serious fire at the plant within a month. In the first blaze, five persons lost their lives and damage to property was estimated at $1,500,000. The financial loss yesterday was comparatively small.

Yesterday's fire is believed by officials of the company to have been caused by a loose connection in a tube leading from a naphtha still, to a nearby vat. The hot oil pouring from this leak, it was said, came in contact with the flames from the furnaces beneath the stills and resulted in the explosion.

W HAT IS the Ku Klux Klan?

How has it grown from a nucleus of 34 charter members to a membership of more than 500,000 within five years?

How have its "domains" and "realms" and "klans" been extended till they embrace every State in the Union but Montana, Utah and New Hampshire?

What are the possibilities of a secret organization that practices censorship of private conduct behind the midnight anonymity of mass and robe and with the weapons of ships and tor and feather?

At the end of months of inquiry throughout the United States the Post-Dispatch and the New York World today continue the publication of a series of articles in which answers to these questions will be offered.

Klanism is not only patriotic, but he is actively and eagerly patriotic. "I can't help being what I am racially. I am not a Jew, nor a negro, nor a foreigner. I am an Anglo-Saxon white man, so ordained by the hand and will of God, and so constituted and trained that I cannot conscientiously take either my politics or my religion from some sectarian ass on the other side of the world."

"Now, if somebody else happens to be a Jew, I can't help it any more than he can. Or, if he happens to be black, I can't help that either. If he were born under some foreign flag, I couldn't help it, and if he wants to go clear back to Italy for his politics and his religion, I cannot hinder him; but there is one thing I can do."

"I can object to his un-American propaganda being preached in my home or practiced in the solemn assembly of real Americans."

For a full double column more the chaplain continues his excursion, stopping by the way to quote once more the Klan's "Creed" with its White Supremacy declaration and finally winds up with this peroration: "Back in the days of the Reconstruction the fathers gathered at the call of the low, shrill whistle and rode into immortal fame, rescuing a Atlanta, and making a real once more the White Supremacy. Klansmen of today, whether they assemble in the mountains of Maine or 'neath the shadows of the Wonderful West, or on the plains of the Wonderful West, or amid the trailing vines and wild flowers of Dixie, meet to keep alive the memory of these men and preserve the traditions of these days when the souls of men were tried as by fire."

Distribution of "Searchlight."
Remembering that though Ku Klux Klan, has never officially acknowledged the Searchlight, this paper goes in bundles of from 10 to 75 copies weekly to the Ku Klux Klan workers it is instructive to examine a list of the paper and observe its attitude toward the Klan and classes Ku Klux Klan from membership.

"Negroes Must Serve on Chain Gangs Now," is the head of a box on page 1, Aug. 6. "Negro Mob Clubs by New York Police," is an article on page 1 on July 23, and on the same page "Social Equality Put Under Ban" is a set of resolutions denouncing the Rev. M. Ashby Jones, pastor of the Ponce de Leon Church of Atlanta, for permitting a negro to attend an interracial committee meeting at the Ponce de Leon Hotel, which negro "mister" in the presence of a "body of fair womanhood of Atlanta"—said resolutions being boldly adopted by "Patriotic Societies of Atlanta" and "Look out, Patriots!" is another headline on that page. "Enemy Would Place History in Public Schools—Backed by Negroes and Catholics," is the headline on page 1 of the same issue. "Look out, Patriots!" is another headline on that page. "Enemy Would Place History in Public Schools—Backed by Negroes and Catholics," is the headline on page 1 of the same issue.

Mixed in with the items tending to reveal the negro population of the country in an unfavorable light are similar attacks on the Jews and foreigners whom Imperial Chaplain Ridley also officially lumped in as he rambled.

One of the most vicious attacks on the Jewish race is contained in the issue of July 30, on the front page, where a person writing from New York and signing himself "American" states that investigation made by him has proved beyond a doubt that the negro situation is being made increasingly dangerous by Jewish agitators, who are plotting to create a race war, not to benefit the blacks, but to destroy the Government.

CHICAGO PACKERS ADOPT OPEN SHOP PLAN EFFECTIVE AT ONCE.

The "American shop representation" plan of the packers, E. J. Griffith, international vice president of the Butchers' Workmen, at East St. Louis today said this was untrue and that the packers again were attempting to mislead the public.

He said less than 20 per cent of the employees of the big five had voted, and that the Cudahy employees, three months ago, voted 20 to 1 against a company union for Ireland.

At the Omaha conference of unions the officers were authorized to send out ballots for a strike referendum in case of an unfavorable answer from the packers, and Johnson said these ballots would be sent out. He said all the unions wanted was arbitration of all disputes without stoppage of work.

An open air meeting for tonight at Emerson Park, Eighth and Levee, called out and soon the whole district was swarming with them.

The area, which is about equally divided between loyalists and Sinn Feiners, was affected by the truce agreed to last week.

ORDER IN PRINTERS' STRIKE RECEIVED HERE

Ruling by Judge Carland Does Not Prohibit Peaceful Picketing as Defined in Clayton Act.

The temporary order granted at Denver Saturday by Judge John E. Carland, acting Judge of the United States Court for the Eastern District of Missouri, enjoining St. Louis printers and allied trades, who have been on strike for the 44-hour week since May 1, from annoying, harassing or intimidating employees of the printing firms affected by the strike, or from interfering with or annoying persons seeking employment, was received by the Clerk of the United States Court and will be served on the unions and their officers as soon as possible.

JOHN KENNISH, FORMER SUPREME JUDGE, DIES

Falls at Entrance of Trust Company Building in Kansas City.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 15.—Former Judge John Kennish died suddenly yesterday afternoon at the entrance to the Commerce Trust Building at Tenth and Walnut streets. Judge James Goodrich of the Circuit Court was with him. They had luncheon together at the Midway Club in the Commerce Building and had just left the building entrance when Kennish fell.

When he was picked up he was dead.

Mr. Moss, Deputy Coroner, who examined the body, was unable to determine the cause of his death. Kennish was one of the most widely known Republicans in the State, but, though frequently consulted in political matters, never has been identified closely with organization politics.

He was born on the Isle of Man, Nov. 13, 1857. He served as City Attorney of Oregon, Holt County, and as State Senator from the First District. He was First Assistant Attorney-General under former Attorney-General Hadley from 1905 to 1913, and was appointed Insurance Commissioner by Hadley when Hadley became Governor in 1909. A few months later Hadley appointed him to fill Judge Fox's unexpired term.

In 1913 he was appointed by Gov. Major, a Democrat, a member of the Missouri Public Service Commission. He resigned before the expiration of his term, going to Kansas City to practice law. He accepted reappointment to the Public Service Commission last year, but resigned a few months later to become Master in Chancery in the Kansas City Railway receivership case.

COKE PLANT SUPPLIES GAS TO THREE CITIES

Can Produce 5,000,000 Cubic Feet Daily for Industrial Consumption.

The St. Louis Coke and Chemical Co. yesterday began supplying 5,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily to St. Louis, Belleville and Edwardsville, or approximately the total gas need of those cities.

Gas is a by-product of the new company's new plant on the skirts of Granite City. It is being bought and distributed by the St. Clair County Gas Co., which formerly manufactured gas for these cities by the use of oil. The price charged by the St. Clair company for gas has not been changed with the change of source of supply, but officials of that company said the new source probably had made unnecessary an increase in price, which would have been necessary under the old method.

The St. Louis Coke and Chemical Co. produces at capacity operating another 5,000,000 cubic feet of gas available either for industrial consumption adjacent to its plant or piping to St. Louis for industrial and domestic consumption here. This amount is approximately one-fourth the city's total consumption. It is estimated that the new source would tend to reduce the price of gas in St. Louis.

One of the claims made for the new coke company at the time of its establishment was that its operation would tend to reduce the price of gas in St. Louis.

BOY AND EX-CONVICT SAID TO ADMIT SEVEN BURGLARIES.
Frank Widoe, 12, Confesses Acting as "Lookout" for R. C. Crump, Who Corroborates Him.

A 12-year-old boy, Frank Widoe of 6406 E. 12th avenue, confessed today, the police announced, that in the last month he had acted as lookout for an ex-convict in six burglaries, and had committed a seventh burglary alone.

Roy C. Crump, 23, of 1341 Holmwood avenue, who says that he served two years in the penitentiary beginning in 1917 for highway robbery, corroborated the confession of the boy, the police said.

The two admit guilt, the police announcement stated, for the following burglaries: Candy store of Edward Herzog, at 5401 Easton street, Sept. 2; residence of Thomas Arnold, 1437 Clara avenue, Sept. 4; candy store of Mrs. Julia Caldwell, 1113 Tenth street, Sept. 12; home of Arnold Viera, 5373 Easton avenue, Sept. 10; Postoffice station at 5340 Easton avenue, Sept. 10; Monday. Widoe is said to have admitted that he alone entered the grocery store at Lulu and Easton avenues about three weeks ago.

Man With Revolver Held.
Edward Reno, 25 years old, of Sprague Hotel, Taylor avenue at West Belle place, was arrested last night as he left a drug store at Grand and Gravois avenues, with a loaded revolver in his hip pocket. Police officers had watched his actions inside the store. A young woman with Reno, who recognized one of the detectives as she entered the store, spoke to Reno and the two were out. Reno said he had gone in to use a telephone but had only 15 cents with him.

CHURCH TELLS MOTHER HOW HE KILLED AUTO SALESMAN

Officials Convicted Two Other Youths Named as Accomplices.
Had No Part in Murders.

By The Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Harvey W. Church, confessed slayer of Bernard Daugherty and Carl Ausmus, automobile salesman, early yesterday, was brought face to face with his mother for the first time since his arrest, and in her presence in the State Attorney's office, he repeated the details of the two crimes.

He reverted largely to the first of his many confessions and indicated, officials declared, that he planned and executed the murders without assistance.

Neither Clarence Wilder nor Milton Walker, named by Church as accomplices, officials said they had been convinced, had any part whatever in the crimes and they also expressed doubt whether Leon Parks assisted Church, despite a detailed confession made by Parks.

Officials pointed out that Parks stoutly maintained his innocence until confronted by Church, who then supplied most of the answers to questions put to Parks by the investigators.

Church, in his first confession, said he alone lured Daugherty and Ausmus to his home, killed them and disposed of the bodies to obtain possession of an automobile. Later he said he had an accomplice and still later asserted he had two accomplices.

Parks, one of the alleged accomplices, signed a written confession telling in detail how he and Church killed the two auto salesmen, threw Daugherty's body in the river and buried Ausmus' body in Church's garage. Church and Parks both named Wilder, an associate, as the third man involved.

Church yesterday is said to have asserted he named Wilder because he knew Wilder could easily prove his innocence and said that the real "third man" was Walker. Walker, like Wilder, was able to establish an alibi apparently irrefragable, and Church when brought face to face with him, is then said to have asserted that he was not the "Walker" who acted as "third man."

NEGRO POLITICAL LEADER DIES

By The Associated Press.
SHREVEPORT, La., Sept. 13.—

C. C. Antoine, negro, 35 years old, formerly Lieutenant-Governor of Louisiana having served in that capacity in the 70's, when at times, he also acted as Governor, is dead at his home here and will be buried today at Flournoy, this parish. Antoine was born in New Orleans. His father fought against the British at New Orleans in 1812. His mother was a native of West India, the daughter of slaves from Africa. Antoine spent many years of his life here, and in reconstruction days, before negro rule was broken, was a political power.

POLICE QUESTION AUTO DRIVER

Revolver and Two License Plates Found in Machine.

When George Frederick of 4501 Tower Grove place saw an automobile run off the road at Tower Grove place and Alfred avenue at 3 p. m. yesterday, he said to the driver, "What's the matter?" The driver drew a revolver and pointed it at Frederick.

Another automobilist followed the machine and caused the driver's arrest at Magnolia avenue and Thurman boulevard. A revolver was found in the machine. The driver said he was Charles A. Wilson, 22 years old, of 3427 Marcus avenue, a stationary engineer. Two automobile license tags with different numbers were found in the automobile. Wilson is held for investigation.

Fall Suits Tailored by Mangone

Or Smart New Models Enriched With Fur

$59.75

With the tang of Autumn in the air it is just the right time to don a good-looking Suit of the new season. We know of none that will please you better, as to newness, smart styles, fine tailoring and moderate price, than our selection at $59.75

You have wide choice—from distinctive Mangone tailors of moussetyne, that are ideal to wear with separate furs, to charming velvety and duvet de laine models with beautiful squirrel, beaver or mole collars—Suits that show the latest cut and perfect tailoring.

Come and see them—and the other wonderful Suits in the Exposition. Women's Suit Shop—Third Floor.

P. S.—New Gauntlet Gloves shown in a great variety of styles and prices.

Squirrel or Beaver Luxuriously Trimmed

New Flaring Coats

$125.00

One of the attractive features of Exposition Week are these newly arrived Fall Coats that are wonderfully lovely to look at and decidedly comfortable to snuggle into. They feature the new Ormond cloth, a soft, deep pile fabric.

Designed in the smart new flaring line, with even sleeves that flare, they decorate themselves with clever designs in silk tailor stitching and further add to their glory with large collars and cuffs of silver squirrel or golden beaver.

Splendid proofs that buying now means greatest satisfaction.

Black Crepe Frocks

Charming and Different in Lines and Trimming Treatment

$75.00 and $85.00

One sees any number of Canton Crepe and Satin Crepe Dresses these days, when they are the pinnacle of fashion, but few there are that possess the striking and delightful individuality of our latest arrivals.

You have seen novelties in sleeves—but they will present a model of Grecian simplicity, with sleeves that fall to the hemline. And again, like the model sketched, there is a very brief sleeve almost covered with a flaring panel that is caught at the wrist.

Beads are used more than ever on the newest Frocks—this group shows one unique and very elaborate design.

Costume Salon—Third Floor.

P. S.—Various attractive new styles are featured in satin and patent leather Slippers.

TATTOOING IS BEING REVIVED ALONG THE PACIFIC COAST

Boys Who Have Recently Enlisted With Shipping Board Fond of the Decoration.
BREMERTON, Wash., Sept. 15.—Tattooing is an art being revived in cities and towns where vessels of the Pacific fleet of the Shipping Board make calls.

Some of the tattoo artists follow the ships from port to port, often crossing the ocean in tracking down prospective customers, and do a thriving business among sailors whose bodies still show enough bare space for some more art. The best customers are boys who have only recently enlisted in the Shipping Board's marine service and who regard the acquisition of decoration on their arms and torsos as a short cut to full-fledged sailorhood.

Many lads get tattooed in order to more successfully pass the examination, being told by the tattoo artist that it is a sign of experience on the seas. Tattooing had fallen from repute among the old-time sea rovers, and it was not generally practiced for 20 years previous to the entry of the new merchant marine in ocean service, except in Oriental ports. Some of the familiar designs formerly tattooed on sailors have given away to modern ones, airplanes, pennants and girlish figures taking the place of anchors, sailing ships and dragon-like fish.

PORTUGUESE BULL FIGHT MORE HUMANE THAN SPANISH

Correspondence of the Associated Press.
LISBON, Aug. 25.—Sailors of the American warships who were entertained in this city when the American squadron visited Portugal, the other day, saw a Portuguese bullfight and justly cheered for one of the bulls.

A Portuguese bullfight is more a display of splendid horsemanship and skillful feints than a cruel sport, such as the Spanish bullfight. There is no bloodshed. The bulls are merely teased by the bullfighters and others who pierce his hide with their tormenting darts. The horns of the bulls are covered with leather balls so that they can do no great damage and the proof of the skill of the horsemen is never to let his horse be touched by them. He makes his horse curvet around the furious animal, occasionally placing his "ferros" in the bull's neck.

After that a group of peasants wearing green and red caps advance into the ring and each in turn tries to throw himself on the bull, either between his horns or on his neck, and to cling on there despite the frantic attempt of the animal to rid himself. If one succeeds in clinging on all the other peasants rush up and hang on to the bull until he is reduced to impotence. The American boys cheered all this with great enthusiasm, but the real outbreak came when one bull leaped after one of his tormentors over a wooden partition and into a group of bullfighters, scattering them right and left.

CHICAGO FAMILY FREED BY RUSSIA, AT RIGA

Carlsons With Young Baby Are Accompanied by Another Illinois Woman.

By the Associated Press.
RIGA, Sept. 15.—Sven Ronald Carlson, a pale but lively 8-month-old baby, so far as is known, the only child born of American parents under the soviet regime, was among the five American refugees arriving in Riga from Russia yesterday. He is the son of Harold Carlson, whose home is Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlson, Sven and a 9-year-old sister and Mrs. Bronislava Dalberg, who also lives in Chicago, made up the party of Americans released by the soviet government, under the terms of the agreement with the American relief administration, who reached Riga today.

Carlson was extremely emaciated as a result of his experiences in Russia, but Mrs. Carlson and the little 9-year-old girl, who had spent most of her life in Russia, looked well.

The Carlsons and Mrs. Dalberg are virtually destitute, having sold most of their belongings from time to time in order to live.

Worked in Public Dining Room. Mrs. Carlson, according to her husband, was forced to work in a Bolshevik public dining room and could not obtain permission to cease her work until a fortnight before little Sven was born. Then she had to return to her duties six weeks later. The joint salary of the Carlsons, he working as a clerk in the commissariat of foreign trade, averaged during the past six months about 15,000 rubles, or about 40 cents a day—enough to buy six pounds of bread. They had no Government rations but, as Carlson said, "like everyone else in Russia, we managed in some way."

The four Carlsons had to live in two rooms in Moscow, while Mrs. Dalberg, together with her daughter and son-in-law, the latter a Russian professor, and two children, had one living room and one office for the son-in-law.

Went to Russia as Clerk. Carlson went to Russia five years ago to work as a clerk for the International Harvester Co. He married a Russian woman, a widow, just at the time most of the Americans left Russia in 1913, and decided to stay with his wife in Russia. He was under arrest for two months. He said he found that in work the Bolsheviks were inefficient.

Of the few Americans remaining in Moscow, according to Carlson, a majority of them are so old and so accustomed to Russia that they probably will stay there, fearing to go home and take their chances in a new life.

Mrs. Dalberg says she was ill when her husband had to leave Russia, and was left behind. She is of Polish birth and is going to Warsaw, where she said today she wanted her husband to join her.

City News in Brief

POLICE ITEMS

AUTOMOBILES DRIVEN BY JOSEPH SORDON, 1214 North Fourth street, and William H. Meier, 3077 Easton avenue, collided on the west approach of the Free Bridge at 9:30 o'clock last night. An argument ensued. A motorist, policeman and Sordon. He related and the policeman's report says he slipped and fell from his head on the curb. He was sent to the city hospital.

WILLIAM PISTORSKI, 27 YEARS OLD, a laborer, of 927 Cass avenue, was arrested last evening on the complaint of several neighbors, who charged him with throwing various articles from their house into the yard. Mrs. Anna Jones, who lives on the third floor of 927 Cass avenue, said he perched on the roof and threw a tub of laundry and other things into the yard. Mrs. PISTORSKI, third floor, 927 Cass avenue, said he threw down a chair, a box, a washbasin, two bushels of potatoes and several other things from the yard. City hospital physicians said he had been drinking.

A MAN RAN INTO THE STORE OF THE Green Furniture Co., 2519 Wash street, at 9:30 p. m. yesterday, picked up a cash register valued at $25 and ran out with it. A negro employee followed him. The thief dropped the register after running several blocks. It was recovered.

FRANK VROGMAN, WHO LIVES AT the Buckingham Annex Hotel, west of the city, was arrested at 8:30 p. m. yesterday for stealing a watch valued at $30 and stolen from his room there. A month ago he reported that watchchain and knife stolen to it had been stolen from his room.

HARRY ROYAL, PRESIDENT OF THE St. Louis Picture Co., 812 Wash street, has a safe in his office in which he keeps no money over night, and which he leaves unlocked and with the door ajar. Last night burglars entered the place and scattered the contents of the safe, consisting of books and papers, over the floor and left. Royal's scheme was to leave the safe door open so that cracksmen would not damage it.

GEORGE PATRICKENBACH, A PAINTER, man at Melabach's Restaurant, 609 North Ninth street, was arrested at 8:30 p. m. yesterday for stealing a watch valued at $30 and stolen from his room there. A month ago he reported that watchchain and knife stolen to it had been stolen from his room.

MISCELLANEOUS

PETER BONZOLA, 46 YEARS OLD, OF 4823 Oldenburg avenue, was injured on the sidewalk at 12 p. m. yesterday when dirt caved into a trench which he was digging at 3501 South Second street. A fire department and Wyden boulevard, will open Thursday, Sept. 22, after company attracted him. He is at the city hospital.

GABRIEL JOHNSON, MAYOR OF MONROVIA, the capital of Liberia in Africa, will speak at 8 o'clock tonight before the members of the Universal Negro College Improvement Association, at the First Baptist Church, Garrison and Locust avenues.

INTEREST RATE LOWER FOR MISSOURI FARMERS

They Also Have Better Credit Than Those of Other Mid-Western States, Bulletin Shows.

By the Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 12.—The Missouri farmer and agriculturist who borrows money has better credit than the same class of individual in any of the seven mid-western wheat and corn states. This fact is shown in a bulletin issued here by William H. Lewis, Commissioner of the Bureau of Labor, stating that the average rate of interest to Missouri farmers is lower than the rate in any of the other mid-western states. The states included in the group are Missouri, Kansas, Minnesota, Iowa, North and South Dakota and Nebraska.

"Bankers, financiers and others who loan money to those who till the soil, run dairy farms and follow pomology in the State have more faith in the ability of Missouri farmers to pay back sums advanced early each season to purchase seed, stock, agricultural implements and other necessities," according to the bulletin. "The Missouri rate on short-time loans this year was even lower than the rate in Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Utah, Nevada, Idaho, Washington, Oregon and California."

The findings of the research work of the Bureau of Labor, under the supervision of A. T. Edmonston, are based on the rate of interest in these states in April of this year, at the time when most of the short-time loans were made.

"The average rate of interest on short-time loans to Missouri farmers in April, 1922, was 7.57 per cent," according to the bulletin, "as compared to 8.4 per cent in Minnesota; 7.66 per cent in Iowa; 8.29 per cent in North Dakota; 8.48 per cent in South Dakota; 8.80 per cent in Nebraska; and 8.37 per cent in Kansas. The rate in the other states enumerated ranges from 7.62 per cent in California to 10.36 per cent in Georgia, which State, regardless of its enormous cotton, watermelon and peach crops, had the highest rate of interest of any of the 48 states.

POLICEMAN SAVES EVIDENCE

Leaps Over Bar and Takes Rinses Water After Drink Is Seized. Patrolman Melchior of the Wyoming Street District saw Mike Talando, 49 years old, about to serve a drink, which the policeman thought to be whisky, to a man in his saloon at 1000 Sidney street. As the policeman rushed in Talando seized the glass away from his customer and threw the contents into the rinse water behind the bar. Melchior kept right on going, over the front bar, snuffed the glass and then scooped up two ounces of the rinse water for evidence. A warrant was issued charging Talando with wrongful possession of whisky.

Mike Quinn, 25 years old, a clerk, was arrested in his room at the Frisco Hotel, 616 Walnut street, yesterday, when five plants and two half-pints of supposed whisky were found there.

PREDICTS BANNER YEAR FOR TEACHER TRAINING

Superintendent Baker Expects 3000 High School Students to Take the Course.

By the Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 15.—

The coming school year will be a banner year for teacher-training courses in Missouri's 422 high schools, State Supt. Sam A. Baker said today. Supt. Baker estimates that there will be almost 3000 high school students enrolled in teacher-training courses in the 125 high schools that have been approved for such courses during the school year.

"President indications go to show that this school year will be a record breaker for the teacher-training department of the State's high schools," Supt. Baker said. "Last year there were less than 1800 students enrolled in these courses, of which about 1000 were granted certificates. However, practically all of the students who took teacher training will teach."

3000 Enrollment Expected.

"With the enrollment in teacher-training courses this year probably reaching the 3000 mark, this branch of the high schools will furnish over 2000 teachers for the State's 4000 rural schools the following year. The increased enrollment this year in the teacher-training department is no doubt due to the same factors that have caused an increased interest among others in teaching during the past year. Increased salaries are attracting the high school students, the same as others who might enter teaching and also there is a general tendency of a greater interest among young people in the teaching profession."

The growth of the teacher-training work, Supt. Baker said, is shown by the fact that in 1919 there were 1441 high school students enrolled in such courses, while in 1920 there were 1729, showing an increase of 288 in one year. Moreover, in 1920, there were approximately 900 teacher-training certificates granted, while in 1919 there were 763, in 1918, 714, in 1917, 701. The expenditures by the State for this work also has increased from $100,000 in 1913, to $200,000 in 1920 and $250,000 in 1921.

The teacher force to instruct the teacher-training in the 125 schools that have such courses, has been supplied, Supt. Baker said. There were 105 high schools and academies that had such courses last year, and 23 have been tentatively approved for the work this year.

Towns That Have the Course.

A partial list of the towns that had teacher-training courses last year follows: Bolivar, Booneville, Buffalo, California, Carrollton, Carthage, Chillicothe, Holden, Independence, Jefferson City, Joplin, Kirksville, Lexington, Liberty, Monett, Nevada, Rolla, Ste. Genevieve, Trenton and Webb City.

The high schools that have been approved for the coming year are: Golden City, Winona, New Franklin, Anderson, Empire, Prairie, Steelville, Plattsburg, Edgerton, Linneus, Braymer, Mound City, Elsberry, Greenville, Lardin, Perryville, New Bloomfield, Rock Port, Stearns, Sedalia, Forsyth, Gorin and Glacio.

REPORTS MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING

Woman Says Man in Auto Fired at Another on Sidewalk.

Mrs. Bertha Bischoff, proprietor of a confectionery at 1404 Clark avenue, last night reported a mysterious shooting which occurred in front of her store at 9:45 p. m. She said a man whom she did not know was passing the place when an automobile with three men in it drove up to the curb. A man in the machine fired a shot at the man on the sidewalk.

Mrs. Bischoff said the man on the sidewalk ran west. The machine followed him and she heard two more shots and heard someone say: "They got me." The police found no physical signs to indicate anyone was wounded.

"IMPREGNABLE," 60-YEAR-OLD BATTLESHIP, MAKES SECOND TRIP

British Craft, Which Is to Be Broken Up, Never Sailed Seas or Fired a Shot.
Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.
LONDON, Sept. 11.—Sixty years old and representing the best of her line of battle ships, the Impregnable last week went from her Devonport moorings to the shipyard to be broken up, making only her second voyage in her long career. For a year she had been the Bulwark, because the Admiralty saw fit to use her name on another craft. But in all her years since her keel was laid in 1859, the Impregnable never smelled powder or sailed the seas. Used as a training ship for British seamen, the craft remained always at Devonport. She never had her sails fully spread, and she never fired a shot in an engagement with an enemy, but as a "show ship" she is said to have discouraged many a European ruler's hopes of conquest, through visit to the great battle ship.

Civil War Veteran Dies.
Members of Edwardsville Post 45, G. A. R., will attend the funeral of William H. Head, 81 years old, who died Tuesday night at his home. Services will be conducted at the home of his son, Frank Head, former Allderman. Head served with the 117th Illinois Regiment in the Civil War.

SAYS WORLD IS EMERGING FROM TROUGH OF MORALITY WAVE

Methodist Delegate Tells Conference War Brought Change From Old Moral Standards.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—Moral standards of the present day, changing from the simple code of our forefathers, are "excesses growing out of the war," declared the Rev. Dr. Elbert Robb Zaring, editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate, Chicago, before the fifth ecumenical Methodist conference here yesterday. "It is a passing wave from which," he said, "we are slowly but surely emerging."

"The true moral standard is unchangeable. It lies like a great snow-capped mountain range across the horizon. It cannot change. This moral mountain range which has set the standard for all time, sustains the same relation to the moral world that the Himalayas do to the physical earth."

"Our conception of moral standards is changing. We are today in the trough of a wave. The war upset everything, toppled our moral as well as our intellectual and physical standards."

"Our conception of the moral standard is lifting. One of the most hopeful phases of this development of a moral ideal is the application of the principle of Christianity to the great world of industry about us. There is no question but that we have a larger outlook in this field than ever before."

"But the world has become complicated. There is no simplicity. Everything is interwoven, enmeshed. No man liveth to himself and no man dieth to himself in any sense whatever. Once upon a time we did not care how a man made his money just so he distributed it properly. Now we are not so anxious about the distribution of his money as how he made it. I have great hopes for the future. The moral standard is lifting gradually. The line marked upon the side of the great and eternal standard set by Christ himself is gradually mounting. Some day—but not now—we may reach the top of the standard."

SHIPPING BOARD'S ACCOUNTING SYSTEM BEING REORGANIZED
Department Held by Lasker to Have Been Responsible for Waste and Extravagance.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Reorganization of the financial accounting and sales departments of the Shipping Board, held by Chairman Lasker to have been responsible for much of the waste and extravagance in the board's operations, was started yesterday by Joseph W. Powell, Quincy (Mass.) shipbuilder, who recently was selected by the board as vice president and general manager of the Emergency Fleet Corporation. The reorganization is expected by Oct. 15, the date by which the chairman has stated the reorganization of the entire board and Emergency Fleet Corporation will have been finished. In addition to the reorganization work, Powell will act as adviser on the more important problems before the board.

The retirement of R. W. Bolling, brother-in-law of former President Wilson, as treasurer, and of Alonzo Tweedale as comptroller, will be involved in the reorganization. It was stated yesterday by a high board official. Both of these officials tendered their resignations verbally as a matter of routine when the new board came into office but were asked to remain until the reorganization had been effected. Successors to Treasurer Bolling and Comptroller Tweedale probably will be named within two weeks, it was stated yesterday.

ATTEMPT TO CONTROL FOOD SUPPLY CHARGED TO PACKERS

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Sylvan L. Six, treasurer of the National Wholesale Grocers' Association, in behalf of its 4000 members last night issued a statement charging that the "big five" meat packers of Chicago again were attempting to obtain control of the entire general food supply of the country.
He also asserted that apparently the "big five" would have the active support of the Attorney-General's office in scrapping the Governmental restrictions that were thrown around the "big five" by the Wilson administration after years of public agitation. He expressed fear that within a week Attorney-General Daugherty might set aside those provisions of the Government's "control decree" entered into with the packers in 1920, whereby the "big five" agreed to restrict themselves to the handling of meat and meat products.

MAXWELL-LEHMAN WEDDING ON OCT. 1

Ceremony Will Be at 8 in the Evening at Church of Messiah, and Reception Will Follow.

MR. AND MRS. HAROLD MAXWELL of 5033 Washington boulevard have issued invitations for the wedding of their daughter, Miss Margaret Elinor Maxwell, and Dr. Edwin Partridge Lehman. The wedding will take place at 8 o'clock on the evening of Oct. 1 at the Church of the Messiah and will be followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Miss Maxwell will be attended by her sister, Miss Dorothy Maxwell, as maid of honor and by the following bridesmaids: Misses Josephine January, Frances Allison, Cora Lee King, Marjory Douglas, Emily Eaton and Elizabeth Walker. Dr. John A. P. Millet of Buffalo will act as best man and the groomsmen will include Dr. D. K. Rose, Stanley Maxwell, Dr. Anthony B. Day, Berthoud Clifford, Dr. Drew Luten, Edward Chierbonnier of Ferguson and Danforth Geer Jr. of New York.

Miss Maxwell is a graduate of Mary Institute and served as maid of honor at the Valedictory of the class in 1919 and 1920. Dr. Lehman, who is connected with the faculty of Washington University, is a graduate of Williams College and Harvard Medical School. He is a member of the University Club.

The Original Orange Rouge Mad Cap

A Natural Color that Really Deceives

WITH an ordinary rouge you are always conscious that others either note its artificial tint—or suspect that rouge has been used. "Mad Cap" rouge gives you a feeling of satisfaction and ease, for its natural color effect is most deceiving to even the sharpest eyes.

This original orange color rouge turns to a delicate blush when applied to skin. Can be shaded to any depth or lightness desired. Blends with any complexion. Not affected by moisture of the skin, and will not rub off. Lasts all day, indoors or out, without renewing. One box will convince you—get it today.

fantry, who was killed in the Argonne battle, Sept. 27, 1918, is one of 12 bodies of St. Louis soldiers which are expected to arrive at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow. In the same group are one body destined for St.
Charles and one for Belleville, and 53 others for points in Illinois and in the Southwest.

Capt. Sodemann was the son of Chris Sodemann of 2514 Connecticut street, to whom the body is consigned.

The body of another St. Louis officer of the Thirty-fifth Division, Lieut. John D. Cosgrove of K Company, 139th Infantry, will also arrive tomorrow. The Distinguished Service Cross was awarded posthumously to Lieut. Cosgrove for extraordinary heroism in action near Charpeny, where he was killed. An official citation stated that, as battalion intelligence officer, Lieut.
Cosgrove, "disregarding danger, conducted a personal reconnaissance, locating many machine guns and strongholds. He was killed while voluntarily leading and placing troops in advantageous positions to reduce these machine gunners."

Lieut. Cosgrove was formerly a letter carrier. His body is sent to his mother, Mrs. Sarah A. Nace of 3201 Cass avenue.

The other bodies consigned to St.
Louis and adjoining places, and the

Arthur F. Crow, C Company, Seventh Infantry, nearest relative, George D. Crow, now lives in Washington; burial at Jefferson Barracks.

The funeral of Corp. William H.
Murphy, who was a member of the Headquarters Company, 128th Field Artillery, will be held at 3 p. m. Saturday from an undertaking establishment at 3710 North Grand avenue, under the supervision of Joseph M. Fournier Post, American Legion.
He was the son of Mr. and Mrs.
William P. Murphy of 4175A Farlin avenue.

The funeral of Edward M. Krohn of the Fifth Regiment, Marine corps, who was killed at Chateau Thierry June 6, 1918, will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at St. Columbille's Church, Carondelet, followed by burial in the Jefferson Barracks Cemetery. He was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. William Krohn of 3109
Reilly avenue.

Austin and Floyd Kay Post, named after two members of L Company, 138th Infantry, consigned to whom were killed in the Argonne battle, will have charge of the funeral of Sergt. Floyd Kay, to be held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday at the Kirkwood Baptist Church. Burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery.

The funeral of Russell Riggs, a member of the Marine Corps, son of the Rev. Milford Riggs, former pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church here, will be held at Ironton, Mo., tomorrow, and the burial will be in Memorial Park Cemetery, near St.
Louis, Saturday afternoon.

Rev. Mr. Riggs and Mrs. Riggs are now in charge of the Baptist Old Folks' Home at Ironton.

The funeral of Lawrence Duncan Boothe of the Marine Corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Boothe of Overland, St. Louis County, was held this afternoon, from an undertaking establishment at 4217 Olive street, with Memorial Park Cemetery as the place of burial.

To Make Hairs Vanish
From Face, Neck or Arms

(Beauty Culture)
Keep a little powdered deodorant handy and when hairy growths appear make a paste with some of the powder and a little water, then spread over hairy surface. After 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be entirely free from hairy growth. This simple treatment is infallible, but should be repeated to be sure and get gentle deodorant, otherwise you may be disappointed.

MOVEMENT TO PREVENT CHANGE IN STATE TAXATION SYSTEM

Four Delegates Chosen at Jefferson City Meeting to Make Effort at Constitutional Convention.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 15.—Four delegates to a State meeting to be held in Jefferson City, probably in October, to endeavor to control the election of delegates to the constitutional convention to prevent and revision in the antiquated taxation system of the State, were chosen at a mass meeting of 100 residents of Cole County yesterday. The movement is fathered by former Congressman Dorsey W. Shackelford.

The delegates chosen were Mrs. Shackelford, John F. Koester, editor of the Volksfreund; Heber Nations, editor of the Jefferson City Post, and J. J. Buchta of Lohman, president of the Farmers' Association of Cole County.

Shackelford said that more than 3000 residents of Cole County had signed the call for the meeting and were in sympathy with the movement. He said organizations were being perfected in all counties.

The principal object of the meeting is to bring about the election of delegates to the constitutional convention, who will oppose the inclusion in the proposed new constitution of provisions legalizing the secured debts tax, recently declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court. The call states the purpose is to retain without alteration the present constitutional provisions governing the assessment of property. Shackelford said there was no disposition to oppose any constitutional changes needed by the larger cities.

CHARTER SOUGHT FOR SOCIETY OPPOSING DRY AND BLUE LAWS

Petition Says Object Is to Unite Citizens to Cope With "Highly Organized Minority."

A petition was filed in the Circuit Court today for the issuance of a charter to the National Association of United Americans, formed to oppose prohibition and restrictive Sunday laws. A. J. Vogler of 4146 Delmar boulevard is named as president, William Kirchner, a water department employee, as treasurer, and James L. McNamara as secretary. "The object," the application reads, "is to unite the citizens of the United States to cope with an active and highly organized minority, who are seeking, through activities in legislative bodies, to take from our citizens, by un-American and undemocratic legislative enactment, those rights and liberties which our forefathers established."

GODDARD GROCERY CO., SUE FOR $48,759 IN SUGAR DEAL

Texas Concern Alleges St. Louis Firm Broke Contract Entered Into in 1920.

A suit for $48,759.35 was filed in the Circuit Court today by the Sugarland Industries, operating the Imperial Sugar Mills at Sugarland, Tex., against the Goddard Grocery Co. of St. Louis, alleging breach of a contract by which the grocery company agreed to purchase 5000 bags of sugar for delivery in May and June, 1920, at 27.4 and 27.5 cents a pound. The petition alleges that after delivering 3000 bags the Sugarland company had an engine accident and shipment of the June order was deferred until June 21, when the grocery company refused to accept it. The Sugarland company alleges that it was forced to sell the sugar in the open market at a loss of the amount for which it sues.

PROSECUTOR WILL INCLUDE NEW CHARGES IN WILLMANN CASE

Mueller Says He Will Amend Information Against Sheriff, Who Will Go to Trial Oct. 10.

Prosecuting Attorney Mueller of St. Louis County today said the State would be ready for trial in the prosecution of Sheriff Willmann Oct. 10, the date set for trial of the Sheriff in Judge McElhinney's court, on a charge of neglect of duty in failing to enforce the prohibition law. Mueller said he would amend the information against Willmann to include other charges, but he refused to say what they were. Mueller has been conducting an investigation in the county independent of that conducted by Fred M. Tate, investigator for Attorney-General Barrett. He said he and Tate had obtained the same additional evidence and that it would be the basis of new charges.

DRY AGENTS ASKED FOR REPORTS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Federal prohibition directors were instructed last night to submit monthly reports on prohibition conditions in their respective states, including the attitude of juries in Federal and state courts, steps taken to co-operate with various law-enforcement agencies and attitude of the press. Instances of exceptional merit or inefficiency should be set forth, the instructions added, as well as the progress being made in disposition of seized liquor.

Take the Graduola in your hand—

you are a part of the music

By making use of the Vocalion's wonderful and exclusive feature, the Graduola, you can vary the music to suit your fancy—you can put your own interpretation into it—you can share with the artist the delight of actual musical performance.

Of course, like any other Phonograph, the Vocalion will play for you by itself. You don't HAVE to play it, unless you want to. But so fascinating is it to take part in the music of the Vocalion that you WILL want to play it, once you have tried it.

Before you buy any Phonograph, be sure to come in and try playing the Vocalion.

The VOCALION

—the Phonograph that you can play—is made by the world's largest makers of musical instruments, the Aeolian Company. It is satisfyingly beautiful in design and finish, and equally satisfying in moderate price. Conventional styles, $60 to $350. Art styles, up to $5000. Convenient payment terms, if desired.

For Business Floors

The floor of Armstrong's Linoleum is a pleasing factor in the decorative scheme of the Empress Waist Shop, Chicago.

The Floor that Adds Smartness

A FLOOR of Armstrong's Linoleum adds to the attractiveness of the smart store or shop.

Go into any good store and see the rich plain colors—brown, blue, gray, green, rose—the handsome Jaspé (two-tone) effects, parquetry and tile designs in which this modern linoleum is supplied. You will find it easy to select the color-scheme and design best suited to your particular type of store.

Because Armstrong's Linoleum is made chiefly from cork, such a floor is springy to the step, comfortable to walk on and stand on.

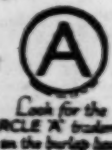

Armstrong's Linoleum is durable because it is tough and elastic. It shows no trace of tramping feet, and gives long wear under the hardest usage.

Linoleum floors are easy to clean; waxing and polishing keeps them in perfect condition.

Whether you are going to build, or lay new floors in your store, consult your architect, contractor, or any good linoleum dealer about Armstrong's Linoleum. We shall be glad to supply data and specifications for laying.

A good way to install Armstrong's Linoleum as a permanent floor is to cement it down firmly over a layer of builders' felt paper. A floor so laid stays smooth and tight and is absolutely waterproof.

Floors of Armstrong's Linoleum are inexpensive in both first cost and upkeep, and all Armstrong's Linoleum is guaranteed to give entire satisfaction.

POLICEMEN TO AID IN KEEPING FORCE RECRUITED

President Miller Says Patrolmen Have Been Ordered to Report Names of Acceptable Persons.

The large number of rejections of applicants for patrolmen because of physical, mental or moral defects has caused the Police Board to change its recruiting methods. Victor J. Miller, president of the board, last night said in a speech before the West End Business Men's Association. He said all patrolmen had been ordered to report names of men they believed would meet the requirements.

Of 350 recent applicants, Miller said, only 18 had been found fit. He said a careful investigation was made of the character of each applicant, and particular attention was given to learning if they had relatives or friends among criminals or police characters.

RULES AGAINST ATTEMPT TO ENJOIN CHIROPRACTORS

Assistant Attorney-General Miller Holds Such Proceeding Cannot Be Resorted To.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 15.—Injunction proceedings cannot be used by the State Board of Health to prevent chiropractors from practicing in the State, even though they do not have a license from the State Board, according to an opinion rendered today by Assistant Attorney-General Albert Miller.

The opinion was addressed to Dr. Cortez E. Moore, secretary of the State Board of Health, at the request of Health Commissioner Starkloff of St. Louis. Miller held that the practice of medicine or surgery cannot be enjoined because such practice is unskillful or because patients are deceived by false claims of skill.

LABOR TO URGE BUILDING PLAN SIMILAR TO FARM LOAN ACT

Approval of President Harding of Bill Providing for Such Financing to Be Sought.

The Building Trades Council last night requested its secretary to have the American Federation of Labor get the approval of President Harding of a bill providing the financing of home building on a plan similar to that of the farm loan act.

A similar measure, proposed by the American Federation of Labor, died in the last Congress. M. J. Cassidy, secretary of the Building Trades, said organized labor would seek legislation in the forthcoming session of Congress to make long-time loans through regional banks in sums of $500 to $7000 to prospective home builders.

RECRUITING FOR ARMY RESUMED

Enlistments in This Corps Area Limited to 400 a Month.

Recruiting for the Regular Army has been resumed. This is the first recruiting activity since enlistments were closed on Feb. 7, last. For the present recruiting will be confined to the posts, camps and stations of the Regular Army and by recruiting parties sent out from these posts, camps and stations to nearby cities.

Former soldiers, including those discharged because of reduction of the army, and regardless of whether or not they were enlisted in the army Feb. 7, 1921, are now eligible for enlistment, provided they otherwise meet the requirements for the service. Men without prior military service are also eligible for enlistment, provided they are of proper age and otherwise qualified. The number of men who can be enlisted in this, the Seventh Corps area, is limited to 400 a month.

DISTILLING APPARATUS FOUND

Police Seize Whisky, Mash and Still in Room Reported Unoccupied.

Police are looking for the owner of a 25-gallon still, 11 barrels of corn mash, five gallons of whisky, a sack of corn, a sack of sugar and a gas stove which they found last night in rooms at 2088½ O'Fallon street, which had been supposed to be vacant. They found no one there when they made the raid. John Buha, proprietor of a saloon at 419 South Vandeventer avenue, was arrested, after policemen found a pint bottle supposed to contain whisky behind his bar. John Fontana was arrested at his home, 4036A Enright avenue, by policemen who found on the premises two 50-gallon barrels which they said contained grape mash.

Making History.

INFANT MORTALITY in past ages has been something frightful, something almost beyond belief, and even today it occupies the time and the mind of many physicians in all countries. The death rate among infants is being gradually reduced through new methods of hygiene, new preventatives and new remedies. This reduction in the death rate has NOT been accomplished by the precautions taken and remedies used by adults. Rather has it been the clear of the old methods, and choose after long research the precautions and remedies specifically applicable to infants.

This being so, is it necessary for us to caution mothers against trying to give their baby relief with a remedy that she would use for herself? Will she remember that Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for infants and children?

Children Cry For

Fletcher's
CASTORIA

Of Course You Love Your Baby.

You love it because of its very helplessness, because it can't tell you what is the matter when it feels bad. It can only cry and look to you for help. But the more you love baby, the more you want to help baby, the more you ought to realize what a wonderful remedy Fletcher's Castoria is. It has been used for babies' ailments for over thirty years.

An experienced doctor discovered Fletcher's Castoria especially for babies' use. It is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. Doctors who know what is safe and best for babies have only good to say of it.

Don't neglect your baby. Get a bottle of Fletcher's Castoria and give baby a few doses of it. See how the little one smiles at you as if trying to thank you for helping it. Soon you will learn to depend on Fletcher's Castoria, made just for Infants and Children, and of course you would not think of using anything for them that was not prepared especially for Infants and Children. So keep it in the house.

PICTURESQUE SCENE AT FALL OF ESKI-SHEHIR

Veteran Greek General Led His Troops Into City Freeing 5000 Persons From Turks.

By the Associated Press.
ESKI-SHEHIR, Asia Minor, Aug. 21.—Picturesque incidents characterized the fall of Eski-Shehir, Kemal's great defensive bulwark to the Greek army.

The Associated Press correspondent entered the city shortly after the first units of Gen. George Polymenakos' victorious third army corps had marched in. He found 5000 liberated Armenians and Greeks, hysterical with emotion and enthusiasm, standing on the outskirts of the city, shrieking a ringing welcome to the invading troops. Pale-faced men and youths who had been in hiding from the Turks for months, emerged bravely from their caves and hidings and ran to extend a hand of welcome to the soldiers.

The last remnants of the fast-moving Kemalists had fled the city just an hour before. Then a great animated spectacle began to unfold itself.

General Led Caravan.
Led by Gen. Polymenakos and his staff, a great human caravan, stretching for miles and miles, began to wind into the city. A regimental band struck up the Greek national anthem. From every throat were shouts of "Long live Greece." "Long live the army!"

The soldiers had been continuously on the march for nearly a month, having started from Brussa late in June. They had eclipsed Sherman's great march from Atlanta to the sea and were prepared if necessary to go on to Angora.

The unending columns of men, horses, mules, camels, automobiles, motor trucks, caissons, and other vehicles, that made up the army, formed a kaleidoscopic picture. It seemed as if a mammoth Noah's Ark had suddenly emptied itself. Every animal and bird known at the time of the Flood appeared to be represented in the heterogeneous cavalcade that filed through the portals of the ancient Turkish city. "It looks like a page from the Bible," remarked the American military attaché to the correspondent.

There were herds of sheep, flocks of geese, whole regiments of cows, clusters of chickens and every variety of mascot that the soldiers had picked up on the way. Barking, cavorting dogs and even a few stray cats joined the procession and added to the general animation of the scene. Eski-Shehir had not had such a day in all its long history.

Great Welcome for Troops.
The all-day march of the weary soldiers was rewarded with a reception that cheered their hearts and stirred their enthusiasm. In the ardor of their welcome, the old women of the town embraced the troops and little children showered flowers upon them. On every tongue were exclamations of joy and exuberance. It was a memorable day in Greek history. Ten thousand Christians were liberated from their bondage at the hands of the Turk, and they wanted the Greek soldiers to know their joy and gratitude.

The face of the veteran Gen. Polymenakos, as he stood upon a porch looking down upon his beloved troops, was eloquent with contentment and admiration. His eyes filled with tears as he turned to the correspondent and said, "they are a magnificent set of men. They have been on the march uninterruptedly for weeks and their spirit has never flagged. That is truly the spirit of Greece. It can never die."

By midnight the last of the Greek legionaries had entered the city. The Armenian and Greek residents who came to greet them, returned quietly to their homes and gave thanks for this, their day of liberation. The Turkish denizens of the town had long since retired to their dwellings, depressed, disappointed and sullen. Eski-Shehir, the Verdun of their defenses, had fallen.

The sounds of "revellie" came from a distant Greek camp, and Eski-Shehir fell asleep, conscious that it had entered upon a new era. The following day at dawn the Greek flag flew from the citadel of the city. The old town had long been covered by the Greeks. Their conquest was now fully realized.

Getting Too Fat?
Try This—Reduce

People who don't grow too fat are the fortunate exception. But if you find the fat accumulating or already cumbersome, you will be wise to follow this suggestion, which is endorsed by thousands of people who know. Ask the manager of the store where you buy your groceries to sell you a box of Marmolade Prescription Tablets. One dollar the price of the world over. By doing this you will be safe from harmful drugs and be able to reduce two, three or four pounds a week without dieting or exercise.

South Broadway, last night. Part of the loot of burglars at the home of Fred Paul, 1900 Minnesota avenue, was a silver watch, the front of which was embellished with a portrait of former Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany. Jewelry worth $35 and $50 in cash was also taken.

MAN, WHO WAS STRUCK BY MOTOR CYCLE, DIES

James B. Evans Was Knocked From Bicycle Monday in Collision on Washington Av.

James B. Evans, 44 years old, a watchman, of 1818 Morgan street, died at the city hospital at 6:30 p. m. yesterday of a fractured skull suffered at 4 p. m. Monday when knocked from his bicycle at Ewing and Washington avenues in a collision with a motor cycle driven by William C. Barry, 29, a machinist, of 323 North Twentieth street.

Evans was going north on Ewing avenue and starting to guide his bicycle west on Washington avenue. Barry came east.

Negress, Struck by Truck Aug. 31, Dies of Injuries.

Mrs. Rachel Adams, 50 years old, a negress, of 4216A West Garfield avenue, died yesterday at the People's hospital, 3445 Pine street, from injuries received at 7:40 a. m. Aug. 31, when she was struck by a truck driven by Charles Quinlan, 22, of 4590 Lucky street, in front of 4252 Easton avenue. Witnesses told the police that there were no lights on the truck, that it was traveling 30 miles an hour and that it ran 90 feet after striking the woman. Quinlan was arrested.

Larry Walsh, 65, who lives near Grand and Kossuth avenues, suffered a fracture of the skull and scalp wounds last evening when struck by an automobile driven by Albert Dew, 30, of 1002 Chambers street, as he alighted from a south-bound Broadway car at Market street. Walsh was knocked down. Witnesses told police that Dew failed to stop his machine as the car stopped, and Dew was arrested.

Walsh was taken to the city hospital, where his condition is critical.

Reuben Baker, 24, an electrical worker, of 1835 Carr street, riding on the rear end of a truck driven by Henry Liebel of 757 Hamilton avenue, was seriously injured when the truck was struck at Twelfth street and Washington avenue by a machine driven by Edward Weigel of 3412 Pestalozzi street, who said his foot had slipped from the brake. Liebel had stopped for a traffic signal. Baker was taken to the Public Health Service Hospital for treatment for an injury of the leg and internal injuries. Weigel was arrested.

George Cuneo, 23, a gasfitter, of 2321 Dodder street, was seriously hurt when he was caught between two automobile trucks belonging to his father, Louis Cuneo, in front of the Cuneo shop at 1009 Pine street, as they were pushed together by a third truck, which had been hit by a Bellefontaine street car. He was taken home, having probable internal injuries and bruises about the head.

Boy Hurt When Bicycle Is Hit.

Sol Goldberg, 11, of 6024A Bartmer avenue, was injured when a bicycle he was riding was struck by a machine driven by August J. Bauer of 4947 Botanical avenue, at Hadliamont and Bartmer avenues. The boy, who suffered a probable fracture of the shoulder, laceration of the left leg, cuts and bruises, said the bicycle brake did not work. There was no arrest.

Katherine Ridge, 13, of 3442 Montana street, was struck by a tire service car driven by Tod Jamison, 19, of 2635 La Salle street, on Olive street west of Thirteenth, at 9 a. m. today as she walked behind an east-bound Olive car from which she had just alighted. She was taken to the city hospital.

NEGROES DESERT TENNESSEE TOWN AFTER RACE TROUBLE

By the Associated Press.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 15.—Waldens Ridge, a little mining town 20 miles east of here, the scene late yesterday of race trouble, was deserted by its negro population today and no further trouble is anticipated. About three score miners, with their families, who made up the negro population fled when the trouble started, leaving their possessions behind.

The riot was precipitated by the shooting of three white girls by a negro girl.

Henry Clipper, negro, it was said, claimed ownership of a spring on the outskirts of the village, and had purchased a shotgun with which to keep others away. When Edna Barnett, 12 years old, and her two younger sisters went to the spring Jewell Clipper, young daughter of Henry, fired at them, wounding all three. Older members of both races took up the affair and a number of shots were exchanged.

When a Sheriff's posse from Chattanooga arrived they found all the negro cabins empty except that of the Clippers, who were barricaded within doors and surrounded by a mob of about 150 armed persons. The negroes were arrested and placed in jail. Arrest of a number of white men involved in the trouble is expected also.

Edna Barnett was said to have been peppered with buckshot and her condition was considered serious. The others were not badly hurt.

SON CHARGES MOTHER WITH ANNOYING HIM

Broker Causes Parent to Be Haled Into Court and She Is Admonished to Let Him Alone.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Winthrop Newman, a broker living at 480 Park avenue, had his mother, Mrs. Jeanette Warner Newman Newton, summoned to Yorkville court yesterday afternoon, charging her with "annoying him."

Mrs. Newton, a fashionably attired middle-aged woman of evident refinement, listened silently as the Magistrate warned her to cease molesting her son.

"Keep away from your son," the Court admonished the mother. "He is over 21 and able to take care of himself."

Yesterday's action on the part of the young broker came as the climax of long endeavor to escape the publicity that had attended many of his mother's activities in the past 14 years.

Few persons in the crowded courtroom yesterday were aware that the well-dressed, pleasant-faced defendant in the unusual case of son against mother was Mrs. Jeanette Warner Newton, twice a divorcee, at the time prominent in New York's social affairs.

Mrs. Newton's first husband was Clarence Newman, banker, whom she divorced in 1891, resuming her maiden name. Later she was married to N. Montague Newton, divorced him and again took her maiden name. In 1914 she began a suit against Newman in the Supreme Court for $5629 for the support of her son Winthrop.

Winthrop Newman is 28. He is a veteran of the war, having achieved an enviable record in the 36th Field Artillery. In August, 1913, he married Miss Georgiana Louise Heckscher, daughter of Charles Augustus Heckscher, relative of August and G. Maurice Heckscher, Mrs. George B. McClellan and Mrs. Egerton T. Winthrop. After a divorce, Mrs. Newman was married to John Hancock Tweed of Madison, Conn.

Newman's present wife was formerly Mrs. Dorothy Redfield Ives, divorced wife of Walter E. Ives. The marriage took place last September in the chambers of Supreme Court Justice, Guy.

Newman told Magistrate Corrigan yesterday that he had left his mother 14 years ago. His mother had insisted upon keeping track of his activities and annoying him. When she found he had married a second time she made his life miserable, he said, by groundlessly accusing him of accepting gifts of jewelry from women. His mother, he insisted, said, that the present Mrs. Newman is not his legal wife.

"It is simply unbearable," Newman told the court, "and it must be stopped."

At his home in Park avenue last evening, Newman said he had nothing further to add to what he had told the Magistrate.

"I was being annoyed and I simply took steps to end the annoyance. It is not a pleasant thing and I regret all this publicity, but I had no other recourse. The least said about the whole thing the better."

At the home of Newman's mother, 63 West Fifty-first street, last night, it was said she was out of town.

TOTAL OF FLOOD DEATHS IN TEXAS LOWLANDS REACHES 91

Six More Drownings Reported to Taylor; Clothing Rushed to Aid Sufferers.

By the Associated Press.

TAYLOR, Tex., Sept. 15.—The list of dead resulting from the San Gabriel River and Brushy Creek floods in Williamson and Milam Counties was increased to 91 yesterday upon the arrival here of Ed Lawson, who reported that five negroes and one Mexican living on the farm of Alex Kennedy, seven miles south of here, had drowned in the Brushy Creek rampage.

Local Red Cross headquarters yesterday received a call for relief by telephone from Jonah, a settlement nine miles north of here on the San Gabriel. A man who said he swam the river to get to the telephone asked that clothing be sent, as nearly every person in Jonah had lost all except the clothes they wore during the flood. A truck load of clothing and supplies was immediately dispatched.

Trucks loaded with supplies also were started for the devastated district of Youngstown, nine miles northeast of here.

Red Cross headquarters, which were established today, expect soon to be able to issue a revised list of the dead and missing. A representative of the organization has started on a tour of the flood-swamped area to learn the needs of the surviving inhabitants. He also will endeavor to check the number of dead and missing in each settlement and village.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

The Soldier's Side of It.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
YOUR editorial in Monday's issue on the Adjusted Compensation Bill (erroneously referred to as a "bonus") following, as it does, a similar editorial published at the time of the President's reference in Congress in a manner bitterly condemned by Republicans when similar appearances were made by President Wilson, leads me to present to you and to the public one or two angles of the question not brought out in either editorial.

The statement of your belief that most ex-service men concur in your views is most easily disposed of by referring you to the records of the last national convention of the American Legion, and, in case it should be said that the legion does not fairly represent all ex-service men, to a vote taken among all ex-service men, whether legionnaires or not, in St. Louis in the fall of 1919, and to similar votes taken in other parts of the country. These votes are facts, not surmises, and run about 99 to one in favor of adjusted compensation.

And why adjusted compensation? That is a fair question here, since the "gratitude for patriotism" clap-trap seems not to have been as thoroughly exploded in St. Louis as in the rest of the country.

Because it is a debt which those who reaped great gains from the war owe to those who lost in making it possible for them to do so; and who had to meet the high prices caused by these inflated wages and profits without the offsetting advantage of the profits or wages. Because the Constitution guarantees that private property shall not be seized by the Government without due process of law and just compensation. Outside of his health, a young man's time is his most valuable—often his only—private property, and $30 per month is not just compensation for time seized by the Government, particularly when the compensation which he is given is based on the "cost plus" basis, when railroads and other industries seized are compensated for every dollar and every minute lost, when men making shells and bullets similar to those the soldier must dodge or stop for a dollar a day got $18 to $20 a day and when the soldier's dollar a day must practically all be immediately laid out again in expenses. That last is a thought to some who seem to think that the soldier's pay was pure velvet. But take the case of a single man with no fixed expenses except, say, a life insurance policy whose premium was $75 per year. His $30 was distributed about like this:

Civil Insurance$ 6.00
War risk Insurance6.00
Laundry2.00
Tobacco2.00
Barbering70

To those who know the cost of even a five-day furlough home from a point as far distant as Camp Funston and who are at all familiar with the outrageous profiteering against soldiers in America and France, it will be clearly evident that it was a lucky soldier who was able to save even the 70 cents of that last item. If a man were married he received $15 instead of $30 and his wife received $30 monthly to keep her in the lap of luxury, while the wives of mechanics or laborers at home were spending that amount for a single hat.

It pleases me, however, to note that you do not quote Secretary and Corporation Director Mellon's arguments about bankrupting the Treasury, as I am thereby permitted to infer that you see the fallacy in these. In view of the action taken along similar lines by Belgium, France, England, Canada, Australia and Italy, and in view of the fact that America was prepared for two more years of war, whereas the total expenditures under the adjusted compensation bill would have been devoured by Mars before April, 1919, had not our soldiers battled more valiantly to end war than the most sanguine of experts believed possible.

No, I do not believe the ex-service man in general will agree with your views, nor does the result of the recent elections taken by Missouri and many other states with regard to ex-service men lead one to believe that a majority of civilians are aligned on your side.

Many there are who now regard adjusted compensation as a closed issue, but we ex-service men do not so regard it. We do not believe it is as nearly closed as Mr. Harding's political career.

World Leadership.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
AFTER having sucked dry the Versailles treaty of every clause that could possibly benefit us, while repudiating the corresponding obligations, we have turned with unsatisfied greed to the Covenant of the League and, through Secretary Hughes, are demanding every benefit that is reserved in the mandate to the members of that body while we insolently (in the words of Col. Harvey) "refuse to recognize the League, directly or indirectly." As an exemplar of good manners and chivalrous conduct we are certainly justified in continuing to refer to our "leadership of the world."

THE GOLDSTEIN CASE.

The question of Circuit Clerk Goldstein's eligibility for the postmaster's office ought to be considered from a fair and square standpoint.

Neither the official integrity nor the official efficiency of Mr. Goldstein has been attacked. His official record, so far as public evidence goes, is excellent. His office is well conducted. No charge of neglect or incompetence or wrongdoing in office has been brought or even hinted against him.

Our ministerial brethren condemn Mr. Goldstein because he plays poker and was connected with the Lowden slush-fund scandal through his acceptance of funds to push the Lowden campaign for the presidency. The real scandal in the Lowden case was the expenditure of vast sums to gain the presidential campaign, not the acceptance and distribution of it by politicians. After the scandal was exposed and Mr. Lowden was beaten Mr. Goldstein returned the money, which might militate against him in the best political circles as an evidence of weakness. But thousands of politicians received and expended Lowden money as thousands received and expended the Wood campaign funds, which far exceeded the Lowden funds.

Surely it will not be urged that the raising, receipt and handling of campaign funds is a bar to official preferment in the Republican party. Newberry sits in the Senate; Gen. Wood is Governor-General of the Philippines; Gov. Lowden was offered a Cabinet position and hundreds of their political pursers decorate the roster of elective and appointive offices.

If poker playing were a bar to office we shudder to think of the consequences from the seats of the mighty to the benches of the lowly. Even the virtuous Mr. Miller, who is engaged in reforming the morals of St. Louis by the police power, admits that he plays poker, but pleads not guilty of having been caught. He pulls down the blinds.

We defend neither poker nor the handling of campaign funds, but in fairness to Mr. Goldstein we feel bound to say that they have not barred aspirants for office. They are "conventional" offenses. On the other hand, we offer a serious objection to Mr. Goldstein's appointment. He is a thoroughgoing politician, a very clever politician, identified with machine politics and a leader of the Courthouse Ring, the work of which threatened to lower the standard of the judiciary and aroused popular protest in his own party. We submit that the postoffice is a business office in which politics has no place. A good business man who will administer the office with an eye single to postal efficiency, not a politician, should be appointed. The less the Postmaster has to do with politics the better.

The police traffic signals evidently do not include one that will stop bandits in automobiles.

WHAT ARE WE WAITING FOR?

"Oil and intervention are synonyms in Mexico," said Robert Habermann, a labor attorney, fresh from Mexico City, to an interviewer for the Post-Dispatch. But, so far as the United States is concerned, intervention is no longer an issue. The oil interests are pacified, if not satisfied, with the decision of the Mexican Supreme Court declaring nonretroactive Article 27 of the Mexican Constitution. What, then, stands in the way of full recognition of the Obregon Government by our State Department?

Mexico today, says Mr. Habermann, "is more devoted to law and order than any other country on earth." Politically it is flourishing like the green bay tree. For it has confidence in its new leader and President. He has promised to serve the will of the Mexican people, whether it be ultra-conservative or Bolshevik, and he is keeping his promise. Revolutionists have been pacified, for, with a square deal at Mexico City, the cause of revolution has been effaced.

But, says Mr. Habermann, "prosperity depends upon American recognition." Why is not such recognition accorded? Mr. Hughes made a demand some weeks ago for the conclusion of a treaty of amity and commerce as a condition precedent to recognition by the United States. The demand at that time was just, since Article 27, above referred to, was easily open to a construction of retroactivity, in which case legally acquired American property would be subject to confiscation.

Since this cause of objection has been removed by the Mexican courts President Obregon has said that the proposed treaty is no longer "necessary, convenient or possible." Whether or not it is possible is a question with which our State Department need not longer be concerned. The question now is: Why, since American property is assured the protection of Mexican law and courts, should there remain any discrimination against Mexico as among the other responsible Governments of the earth? Is our State Department going to remain hostile and unresponsive, hindering Mexican prosperity, until "United States" becomes a third synonym for "oil" and "intervention"?

It would seem that the "invisible empire" is also transparent.

GETTING INTO THE LEAGUE.

John Bassett Moore will bring extraordinary equipment to the International Court of Justice to which he has been elected by the Assembly of the League of Nations, following Elihu Root's regrettable but justifiable refusal to serve because of age. But all the Justices of this court will necessarily be men of distinction. No others could be chosen for such an honor and responsibility. The selection of Mr. Moore, therefore, is significant for reasons other than fitness.

Ambassador Harvey to the emphatic contrary notwithstanding, the United States is "having something to do with the League." The presence of an American on this tribunal, which, in large part, is the work of an American, identifies us with the League in truth, despite our official aloofness, and will give to the decisions of the court a prestige and force they could not otherwise have.

The International Court has yet to prove itself, but in view of the substantial accomplishments already to the credit of the League, the world may look to this new institution with confidence and expectancy. And should this court, in wisdom and justice, succeed in preventing one war would not all Americans take pride in the fact that an American citizen had participated in such a service?

The man that digs arrow heads out of that Cahokia mound will be doing something. So will the fellow that digs potatoes out of the hill next to it.

SUPPORT THE CENTENNIAL.

The effort to provide an adequate celebration in St. Louis of the centennial of Missouri's admission to the Union ought to have the generous support of St. Louisans. The event of first importance to Missouri marked the culmination of a great struggle over slavery which stirred the nation.

It is appropriate that St. Louis should celebrate the State centenary apart from the State's celebration, not only because this city is the metropolis of the State, but because it played so large a part in the process of Missouri's admission to the Union. As the largest city in the territory, the place where the constitutional convention preceding admission was held, where the State government was inaugurated and the first session of the General Assembly met, St. Louis has much to commemorate in connection with the centennial.

The St. Louis celebration is in charge of the St. Louis-Missouri Centennial Association, of which the Hon. David R. Francis is honorary president and Mr. John H. Gundlach is executive president. The officers and directors are men of high standing. The program outlined is excellent, including a Lafayette Pageant and ball Oct. 5, Civic Day under the supervision of the municipal authorities and a trade mark and advertising pageant on Oct. 7, with a community sing on Oct. 8. During the entire following week an historical drama on a large scale will be produced in the Coliseum. "Missouri—100 Years Ago" is the theme of the drama, which has been written and will be produced and directed by Thomas Wood Stevens, author of the Pageant of St. Louis, produced in 1914.

In order to carry out this extensive program money is necessary. St. Louisans should give the association ample support to make the celebration a thorough success and a credit to the city, which has won leadership in achievements of this kind. Every St. Louisan should at least be a member of the association. The cost of membership is only $1.

Speaking of mills that grind slowly, the East Side has just discovered there is gambling in St. Clair County.

Those three convicts who tried to escape from the Missouri Penitentiary may have been trying to anticipate the usual Thanksgiving parole.

A BATTLESHIP FIGUREHEAD DESIGN.

(From the Detroit News.)

If every voter in this and other lands could read the first article in the Atlantic Monthly for August, the several ships of state now headed for the rocks might easily be swung about the open sea. The article says that after wasting approximately $48 billion dollars in property and production in the late war, the several nations guilty of this stupendous madness are now spending the income at 5 per cent on 160 billion dollars of what they have left on their war budgets. This burden, it needs no argument to show, labor and industry cannot stand. You can't consume more steam than you can make. When humanity understands what it all means it will refuse to make a galley slave of itself just for the sake of furnishing a few of its number the chance to start a war. This writer tells us that we, the United States, are spending today as if we had learned nothing, could learn nothing, would learn nothing, more in getting ready for future wars than the entire net expense of the Federal government five years ago. Oh, but, says the defender of all this waste, we are insuring ourselves by this enormous outlay against another war! Here's the answer of our author: If a manufacturer devoted 80 per cent of his total income, as the United States Government is doing, to paying insurance policies, his creditors would soon intervene and his case would also receive the careful attention of an expert in lunacy.

WHY NOT THROW THEM IN THE WASTE BASKET?

JUST A MINUTE

Written for the POST-DISPATCH

By Clark McAdams

THE CRY OF THE SOUL.

I HID in the shade—the twilight's deep shade—I saw the pale day o'er the mountain tops fade. And I said to the stars that gleamed through the night: "Why hide from my soul the source of your light?"

Pale came the moon to my vision on high. As it swung in its path in the dim Western sky. And I said to the moon: "Pale wanderer, tell My life-burdened soul where my loved ones now dwell."

Soft came the winds from the hills of the West. As though they would calm and lull me to rest. And I asked of the winds if they lived who did die; But the winds went away and did not reply.

Then I said to my soul: "Why linger and strive? What profit to thee if the favored few thrive? Burdened with cares, and cursed by desire, You live in the flame unconsumed by the fire."

Where is the peace I have sought on this earth These years that have fled since the day of my birth? And yet, like a wreck on the depths of the sea, I drift in the storm that mocketh at me."

But, silent with the stars—the moon, it was still—The wind went away and hid o'er the hill; My soul grew more sad, and faint grew my breath. I cared not for life, nor hid I from death.

WILSON H. STITES.

Sir: For the past year or so, during the fall of the year, large numbers of blackbirds fly across Stinker road, between Delmar boulevard and Pershing avenue, going Southwest at about sunrise and Northeast at sunset. That is, about that hour.

The object of this letter is to ascertain through your readers where these blackbirds feed during the day and roost at night. It would seem they would feed in the country and roost in Illinois, north of Granite City.

People in Cabanne know where some of them, at least, roost; but where do they feed?

Sir: Here is my questionnaire. Everybody is getting questionnaires now. See how you like it:

1. Why is a publicity dodge?
2. Does a cow start to rise with her forelegs or vice versa? What difference does it make?
3. How would you peel an orange in a world where 2 plus 2 equals 5?
4. What does a pullet think about? And when?
5. What is the matter with "situations" advertised as offering "opportunities for advancement" or vice versa? (Answer: Everything.)
6. What is a "high power" salesman?
7. What is love? What is hypnotism? What is the difference?
8. What does the expression "kitchen privileges" mean? Is that all?
9. How long is a tape line?
10. If you hired out to a questionnaire-proounding employer, how long would it take him to suck your brains dry and let you go?
11. What is the cheapest way to get free advertising?
12. What are the boundaries of Austria? Of Russia? Since when?
13. What is a helicopter? Does it get you there sooner than a plane or gas bag? Explain fully.
14. Who is John Blake? What is office parlance? Twaddle? Balderdash? "Old stuff"? What is peonage?
15. What is "general reading"? Explain "clean-cut," "red-blooded," "dignified."
16. Define production. What is "awaiting"? What is efficiency? Personality? Character? Reading? When is a quack? What is an expert? Are all the fall-guys from the sticks?
17. What is a mentality test? A knowledge test? If you cannot put a cross (X) in a square, does it mean anything? What is the game of fox and goose? When did you play it last? When should one put away childish things?
18. If a fish swallows 15 barrels of water a day, how long will it take an employment expert, counting the freckles on a cured ham, to reject 15 applications for a machinist's job?

Oh, G. Whiff! I know how you felt when she took your promise of love so lightly because once after a friend of mine had also been in a serious mood one evening the dear girl said: "You're so funny, Harold, and he wasn't telling her jokes, either. Of course, you don't know this, but I've been thinking of getting someone interested. Sometimes I want someone like that and sometimes I don't. Usual, eh? The sad part of it all is, Whiff, that the other fellow always has the desired girl. What shall I do in that case?" ALELL.

The New Republic thinks we have made a mistake in not permitting the British colonies to have their own representatives at the disarmament conference, but Messrs. Hughes and Harding have hardly forgot the outcry against England having six votes to our one in the League of Nations. That was worth votes to the Republicans, and they don't mean to do anything to expose the fallacy of their position.

Spain is hiring soldiers in this country and wherever else she can hire them. The Moors have her looked, and unless she can buy troops with which to oppose them she will have to get out of Africa as she formerly had to get out of Latin-America. Spain is not a going concern. The little red schoolhouse has never been pushed through the country, and without it you can't have a country with enough horsepower to get up in the morning.

It seems that England is going to be able to boast at the disarmament conference of having the biggest battleships in construction, her newest ones topping anything of our own.

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

THE NEW CENTRAL AMERICA.

MARY WILHELMINE WILLIAMS in North

DOWN on the Isthmus which joins the two American continents a new nation is in the process of formation. On Jan. 19, last, representatives of the little republics of Honduras, El Salvador, Guatemala and Costa Rica signed articles of union which, it is hoped, will bring about the strength made possible by co-operation and its permanent good will that is blessed by peace. A Constitution has been drawn up providing for a federation of autonomous states, with legislative, executive and judicial departments, which is to avoid jealousies, shall have their seat in a Federal district to be created. Meanwhile the plan of meeting in Tegucigalpa, Honduras. . . . The constitution stipulates that there shall be an executive council, similar to that of Switzerland, instead of a single executive. The members of the council are to be elected for five years, and shall choose from their number a President, whose term, however, is limited to one year, with prohibition against immediate re-election. These restrictions seem to offer excellent assurance against the wrecking of the federation through usurpation of power by the executive—one of the most common evils in Spanish-American politics. . . . On July 3, last, the newly formed Central American council was pleasantly surprised by a request from Nicaragua for a statement of terms which might serve as a basis for negotiations looking toward Nicaragua's participation in the union. It is sincerely to be hoped that the request may speedily lead to an arrangement satisfactory to all, and that when the states gather on Sept. 15 to celebrate the centenary of their independence, there may be five stars in the flag of the new nation on the Isthmus.

INTERNATIONALISM IN MEDICINE.

From the London Observer.
It is good to see the gradual return of the international idea in the fight against disease. The great pandemic of influenza, following the war, was proof, had proof been needed, that nations are one, so far as disease is concerned, that we are all in the same boat and must sink or swim together. Tuberculosis, the (usually) chronic infection which impoverishes the blood and blanches the skin, so that we may call it the "white plague" to contrast it with "black death" or bubonic plague—tuberculosis, we say, is a world disease, only to be fought by world-wide co-operation. Our knowledge of it is very largely due to French and German men of science—to the Frenchman Villemin, who proved the infectiousness of tuberculosis material, and Pasteur, who started the search for a causative microbe; and to the German Koch, who found the tubercle bacillus 40 years ago.

THE WOMEN'S CLUBS.

From the Philadelphia Public Ledger.
AUTUMN forecasts of the activities of clubs of Pennsylvania women give renewed evidence of the eager concern of women in all that affects human welfare and the life of the spirit (transcends the necessary problems of food and shelter). Time was when the clubwoman was another figure of fun for the cartoonist and the paragraph. It was the settled theme that she neglected her home, was careless of her dress, was scornful of the amenities in her millinery and on her rights and her wrongs. The club has survived caustic tongue of satire and censure. It has made its firm and final place as a factor of the utmost importance in creating public opinion of the right kind and a salubrious social atmosphere. The women's club is a first aid to the home, the interests of music and art and letters and a decent, honorable government. Its chief flourishing activity is an index of the character of the community about it. If it languishes, there is something wrong in the town whose attainment and aspiration it is supposed to represent. The State Federation of Pennsylvania Women stands at the threshold of what is prophesied its most fruitful and inspiring year.

FIREPLUG BROKEN OFF BY AUTO

An automobile being driven south on Broadway yesterday afternoon by Herman Gosteman, 22 years old, of 4623 Florissant avenue, struck a fireplug at Bellefontaine road and broke it off at the base. It was 20 minutes before the flow of water was stopped. Gosteman, who was driving carelessly, estimated the damage to his machine as $500.

A Gas Lamp Post at the Northeast corner of Locust street and Garrison avenue was broken off by a machine driven by Mrs. Corinne de Donato, 3824 Olive street, after a collision between her machine and one driven by Joseph Landis, 2918 Lawton avenue. Gas escaped for 10 minutes.

SUES FOR LOSS OF RING ON CAR

Mrs. A. Block of 5668 Pershing avenue today filed suit against the Pullman Co. for $2000, representing the estimated value of a diamond and sapphire ring which she lost Jan. 26, last, while in one of the company's cars between New York and Chicago, while she was asleep.

MONEY WORRIES FRONTIER MERCHANTS

Problem Interferes Greatly With Trading With Persons From Across Border.

PORT, Me., Sept. 15.—The problem of Canadian silver and current money has been a big one for many months along the frontier coast of Maine, and this is a big one for the merchants, who are losing trade from across the border.

Thousands of Canadians have been coming to the border during the summer season, and nearly all of the money they have brought with them is in the form of Canadian silver and current money. This is a big problem for the merchants, who
the border.

nadian bill, and if the full discount of the bill is taken out they demand American money in change, as returning home they are sure of a small premium.

No Canadian money is taken in Eastport at the postoffice, customs house, American Express Co., railroad, steamboat offices, and the telephone or telegraph offices, and the two banks exchange it only at the prevailing discount. If a canvass of the city were taken on a busy Saturday it is probable that fully three-fourths of the money in circulation would be from Canada.

As there is a large amount of trade carried on daily along the coast or further up the Maine boundary, the discount problem is on that seems to interfere greatly with trading this season and having run for the past two years without much sign of being regulated so that a fair rate of exchange can later be looked for it continues to be one of the hardest problems Down East and with the busy fall coming on the loss of shipping will again be seriously noticed.

Wall of Warehouse Collapses.

Part of the south wall of the four-story brick building at 1500 North Second street, belonging to the Niedringhaus estate and occupied as a warehouse by the Standard Steel and Rail Co., collapsed yesterday.
The damages were estimated at $2000. Nobody was hurt.

Bridges in Nebraska Washed Out.

OSCEOLA, Neb., Sept. 15.—Eight bridges in Polk County were washed out Tuesday night and yesterday as a result of a torrential rain starting Tuesday evening. Most of the bridges spanned the Blue River between here and the town of Polk.

ANTI-BOLSHEVİK OFFICERS AT VLADIVOSTOK REPORTED TAKEN

Enemy Cruiser of the Merkuf of Government Also Said to Have Been Captured.

By the Associated Press.
KROA, Sept. 15.—According to a radio dispatch from Moscow, a detachment which raided the Imperator's army, at Vladivostok, captured all the officers of the anti-bolshevik Government and also the convoy cruiser, Lieut. Davidoff.

A dispatch from Nikolai reports the defeat of bands of the followers of Gen. Emsenoff, the anti-bolshevik leader in Siberia in the vicinity of Grodovovka.
Another dispatch says the Far Eastern Government has appealed to the Kappel troop, offering them amnesty if they surrender within a month.

Radio reports from the East Galician frontiers, says a dispatch from Moscow, contain alarming information concerning the movement of the troops of the Ukrainian anti-bolshevik leader, Gen. Petlura. They declare, however, that rumors of an approaching war between Russia and Rumania are being circulated with ulterior motives.

GERMAN MONARCHIST PREDICTS NEW REVOLT

Leader of Deutsche Nationale Party Expects Fall of Wirth Government, He Says.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.

BERLIN, Sept. 15.—Chairman Hergt of the Deutsche Nationale party, composed of monarchists, has told the Prussian junker organization, Landesverband, that there is a strong possibility of revolution against the Republican Government.
He said he expected the Wirth Government to fall, due to the recent deceit suppressing newspapers as well as lifting the state of siege and similar measures. He added that the danger of collapse of the German republic is greater than ever before.

He denies any intention on the part of the Deutsche Nationale party to make any counter-revolutionary move. He expects to see the reactionaries get into power, but does not say how. Hergt said, "That Versailles treaty must be discarded, but this will not mean war if the Deutsche Nationale party gets control of the Government. In Germany there is only one decent government and that is in Bavaria. We —reactionaries—showed them in Munich that our policy is not negative." Hergt will lead the fight against the Wirth Government in the coming Reichstag.

BERLIN, Sept. 15.—A Munich dispatch to the Tageblatt today says a number of former members of the Baltic Brigade of Gen. Erhardt, the reactionary force which the Government had trouble in disbanding last year, have been arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the murder of Mathias Erzberger. Gen. Erhardt now is in Rosenheim, in Upper Bavaria, and it is reported that considerable numbers of his former troops are leaving Hamburg for Bavaria, with the object, the Hamburg Echo claims, of establishing a monarchy in Bavaria, with former Crown Prince Rupprecht at its head.

Yeast Vitamon Tablets Greatest Beauty Secret

Banishes Skin Eruptions, Puts On Firm Flesh, Strengthens the Nerves and Increases Energy of which Science says you must have to be strong, well and fully developed.

They banish pimples, boils and skin eruptions as if by magic. Strengthen the nerves, build up the body with firm flesh and tissue and often completely rejuvenate the whole system. By getting the precious yeast vitamins in this concentrated tablet form you run no risk of causing gas or upsetting the stomach and can be sure of quick, gratifying results.

If you are thin, pale, haggard, drawn looking or lack energy and endurance you will find it well worth while to make this simple test: First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Next take Mastin's VITAMON—two tablets with every meal. Then weigh and measure yourself again each week and continue taking VITAMON regularly until you are satisfied with your gain in weight and energy. It is not only a question of how much better you look and feel, or what your friends say and think—the scales and tape measure will tell their own story.

IMPORTANT! While the remarkable health-building value of Mastin's VITAMON Tablets have been clearly and positively demonstrated in cases of lack of energy, nervous troubles, anæmia, indigestion, constipation, skin eruptions, poor complexion and a generally weakened physical and mental condition, they should not be used by anyone who OBJECTS to having their weight increased to normal. So rapid and amazing are the results that success is absolutely guaranteed or the small price you pay will be promptly refunded and the trial will cost you nothing. Be sure to remember the name Mastin's VITAMON—the original and genuine yeast vitamin tablet—there is nothing else like it, so do not accept imitations or substitutes.
You can get Mastin's VITAMON tablets at all good drug stores; such as Enderley's six stores, Johnson Bros., Judge & Dolph, E. A. Medler, A. W. Pauley's, Wolff-Willson and Huger's two stores.

CAREFUL SELECTION

Walpole claimed that with a rigorous diet every sickness of mankind might be cured.

While Montesquieu held that health purchased at such a price was but a tedious illness.

Neither was quite right. With intelligent eating most diseases may be cured, but there need be no rigor.

But rather a sensible selection of wholesome foods, such as are offered at CHILDS.

Flavorful fruits, cereals, vegetables, pure milk, and strictly fresh eggs.

RAIL WORKERS' VOTE SAID TO FAVOR STRIKE

Decision May Be Made at Two Meetings in Chicago Next Week.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Decision as to whether the nation will face a general railroad strike may result from two important meetings to be held here next week.

On Sunday the representatives of 500,000 railroad shopmen will meet here to determine what action to take in regard to the wage cut and changes in working rules, effective July 1.

A country-wide ballot, taken some time ago, is said to have resulted overwhelmingly in favor of a strike. The result of the vote will be made known at the meeting over which B. M. Jewell, president of the Railway Employees' Department of the American Federation of Labor will preside.

On Sept. 22, the heads of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Order of Railway Conductors, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, Switchmen's Union of North America and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen will meet here to announce the result of a ballot now being taken in these organizations.

Unofficial reports from some of the organizations indicate a large majority of the members favor a strike. It is reported that the unions are not so vitally interested in wage reductions but are prepared to wage a bitter battle against changes in rules reducing the pay for overtime work.

Heads of some of the organizations recently cautioned members to conserve their resources in preparation for a "show down."

Boilermakers and Machinists Reported to Favor Walkout. By the Associated Press. CLEVELAND, Sept. 15.—Boilermakers, blacksmiths, machinists, carmen, electrical workers and sheet metal workers employed by various railroads have voted to strike in protest against the wage reduction ordered by the United States Railway Labor Board, according to two representatives of the railroad department of the American Federation of Labor.

James G. Sause, Fort Wayne, Ind., representing the boilermakers' craft, and J. A. Lechler, Pittsburgh, of the machinists, were here yesterday advising the various railroad crafts to prepare for the anticipated strike, which they predicted would come within another month. The workers also were urged to remain at their jobs, pending receipt of official word to strike.

MACHINE GUNNER IN PLANE SENDS 194 SHOTS INTO TARGET

Record, Made by Lieutenant With-out a Miss, Said to Be Best Performance.

By the Associated Press. SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 15.—Lieut. L. T. Kittredge of the Pacific Naval Air Service, made what officers said was a remarkable record with a machine gun yesterday when traveling 85 miles an hour in an airplane. Kittredge put 194 shots into a sleeve target towed by another airplane, without a single miss.

Naval aviation experts said they believed this to be the best record ever made. The average is said to be about 50 out of 200 shots.

The scoring was done in various periods while the airplane with the target was twisting and dodging at an altitude of about 2000 feet.

Children's HICKORY Garters
YOUR GUARANTEE OF QUALITY
"This is certainly good strong elastic"
"That's why I prefer Hickory Garters—the quality of the elastic and webbing is uniformly excellent because the makers use only thoroughly tested materials. Besides, these other four of the five famous Hickory features are important, too:
1. The only children's garter made with the patented rubber cushion clasp, which holds stockings firmly between rubber and rubber. Saves stockings and darnings.
2. Easily adjusted buckle.
3. Extra strong pin—cannot bend or break.
4. Guarantee with every pair assures your complete satisfaction or your money back."

Hickory Garters at your dealer. In Five Sizes Twenty-five cents and up depending upon style and size.

MRS. KABER PLOTTED TO ESCAPE, MATRON SAYS

After Plan, Which Included Murder If Necessary, Failed, She Tried Hunger Strike.

By the Associated Press.
MARYSVILLE, O., Sept. 14.—Following the discovery of an alleged attempt to escape from the State Reformatory for women here, Mrs. Eva Katherine Kaber, who is serving a life sentence for the murder of her husband, a wealthy Cleveland publisher, today was reported by reformatory officials to have instituted a four-day hunger strike 10 days ago when the alleged plot was discovered, and she was placed in solitary confinement.

Mrs. Kaber was still in solitary confinement today. Mrs. Louise Mittendorf, superintendent of the reformatory, announced that the conspiracy was discovered when she interrupted letters written to Mrs. Kaber by Miss Marion McArdle, her daughter, who is in a Cleveland jail awaiting trial for complicity in the murder.

According to Mrs. Mittendorf, Mrs. Kaber smuggled out two letters, through the aid of a sewing room matron, to a "Mr. Sademan" of New York and an unknown person in Cleveland, plotting a jail delivery in which Mrs. Kaber was to make good her escape. The conspiracy provided that violence, even the murder of Mrs. Mittendorf and her husband, was to have been used, if necessary, Mrs. Mittendorf said today.

According to Mrs. Mittendorf, Mrs. Kaber offered the sewing room attendant, whose name was not made public, $5000 for smuggling out the letters. Mrs. Kaber is alleged to have told the sewing room attendant that she was to receive $50,000 from a moving picture company for her life story. Mrs. Mittendorf was to have received $500 of this amount. Mrs. Kaber is reported to have told the sewing room matron.

GIRLS! LEMONS BLEACH THE SKIN

Recipe for a Lemon Lotion
Used to Whiten and Beautify

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quart pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rose-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.

Of U. S. Net Event

Anderson Defeats Hunter and Will Meet Wallace Johnson Tomorrow.

The Associated Press. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—The afternoon play in the fifth round of the national singles tennis championship progressed rapidly and with one brilliant feature match. The middle of Philadelphia was dominated by his fellow townsman, Wallace F. Johnson, in straight sets, 6-3, 6-4, 6-3. Willis E. Davis of San Francisco defeated Robert G. Hays also of San Francisco, 6-3, 6-4, 6-1, 1-6, 6-4. Playing conditions were rather trying. In the final rally of the Davis-Kinsey match, when the winning point scored, Davis and Kinsey stood in a few feet of each other and changed shots across the net so that it was almost impossible for the spectators to follow the ball. The seven shots, all within a range of 10 feet, Kinsey netted and one of the hardest-fought contests of the tournament was ended.

8000 Tennis Fans Present.
There was a gallery of 8000 spectators present when afternoon play began. The first match brought together O. Anderson of the Australasian tour and Wallace Johnson of New York. Anderson won in straight sets, 6-1, 6-3, 6-4. He will meet Wallace F. Johnson of Philadelphia in the semifinal round tomorrow. Hunter was outclassed by the player from "down under." In the last match of the day William T. Tilden II won his way to the semifinal by defeating the Brit, Davis Cup star, F. Gordon Lowe, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4. Tilden was not expected to win. Tilden will oppose Willis E. Davis tomorrow's semifinal. Johnson and Tilden are favorites to meet in the final round Saturday.

RS. MALLORY WINS WAY TO SEMIFINAL ROUND OF MIDDLE STATES TOURNEY

The Associated Press. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—Mrs. M. H. Hurdston Mallory, national title holder, won her fourth round match with Miss M. H. Huff, Philadelphia, 6-3, 6-0, in the Middle States lawn tennis tournament at the Philadelphia Cricket Club today. Miss Martha Bayard, Sporthills, N. J., defeated Mrs. Robert Herold, Philadelphia, 6-3, 6-1. Miss Anne B. Townsend, Philadelphia, defeated Eleanor Sears, Boston, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4. Miss Edith Sigourney, Boston, defeated Miss Louise Dixon, Philadelphia, 6-2, 6-3, 7-5. In the fourth round of doubles Miss Hurdston and Mrs. Louise Williams, California, defeated Miss Virginia Carter and Miss Peggy Ferguson, Philadelphia, 6-1, 6-2. Miss M. H. Huff and Miss Helen Wells, Philadelphia, defeated Mrs. Crawford Madeira and Miss Jacqueline Green, Philadelphia, 6-1, 6-4, 6-6.

Tonight's Bouts

MAIN EVENT—Bill Brennan, Chicago, vs. Hugh Walker, Kansas City, 12 rounds, heavyweight. Referee: Harry Sharpe.
SEMIWINDUP—Jimmy Kerna, St. Louis, vs. George Butch St. Louis, 12 rounds, 126 pounds. Referee: Walter Helmer.
PRELIMINARIES—Harry Ritter vs. Harry Webb, 6 rounds, 145 pounds; referee: Leo Shea. Mike Kruger vs. Willie Ramsey, 6 rounds, 115 pounds; referee: Jack Kelly. Jack Callahan vs. Morris Kog, 4 rounds, 110 pounds; referee: Mal Horace Ramsey. All bouts will be to a decision.

By John E. Wray.

Being as first aid to the fund for disabled soldiers of the World War will be given a test tonight at the Coliseum, where Bill Brennan of Chicago and Hugh Walker of Kansas City will box 12 rounds to a decision.

Last winter this match, if arranged in the interest of a similar cause, would have packed the Coliseum to its doors; for it was only last December that Brennan fought World's Champion Jack Dempsey, and, too, pounded him solidly, gave him a "tin ear" and withal put up the hardest fight the title holder has encountered since he flashed across the horizon back in 1915. As a result Brennan was heralded as the "next best man in the world."

Since that time Brennan's status has not altered for the worse. He has fought 16 fights and has won 13 of them by knockouts, although his opponents were not of high merit. In every way he is still an outstanding pugilistic figure. Walker, too, while he has not soared as high as Brennan, has come to the front in the last year and has been winning by knockouts in recent encounters.

Boxing Committee to the Rescue.
Officers of the Enlisted Men's Club, which is promoting the boxing entertainment in the hope of getting a considerable profit to be used as nucleus for a disabled soldiers' fund, are hoping that the earliness of the boxing season, unemployment and the rivalry of baseball, tennis and golf will not detract from the drawing power of the show tonight. The club's officers and the women members of the committee have been disposing of club memberships at booths and downtown business places for some time. Thus far the number sold has been satisfactory and it is anticipated a big sale will be made tonight before 8 o'clock, when the membership polls close by order of the Boxing Committee. This body decided to extend the former closing time, 7 p. m., one hour to enable late workers to have a chance to get home to supper and return in time to purchase tickets.

The Enlisted Men's Club is operating under charter. It purposes to hold other shows of the kind in the future, and the profits will all go to the fund. The officials of the club and others are working free of charge. The fighters will be paid and the Coliseum is charging a reduced rental for the occasion.

The fund raised through the Enlisted Men's Club efforts will be in charge of Col. John H. Parker of Jefferson Barracks, Maj. Horace Ramsey and Mayor Kiel.

Both Principals Rugged.

As for the contest itself, it is a battle between two men, both noted for endurance and stamina, and both able to give as well as take. While neither boxer is a Jim Corbett in boxing skill or footwork, both are experienced men who drive right to the point without wasting much time in fancy steps.

Walker will be at a disadvantage in every respect save age. He is 25 years old and Brennan 28. Brennan weighs 205 pounds and is 6 feet 10 inches tall. Walker is 5 feet 10½ inches tall and weighs 175 pounds—a difference of about 30 pounds in Brennan's favor.

The men have fought before in no-decision bouts without a definite result. Brennan, up to the time of his defeat by Dempsey in 12 rounds had never been knocked out. Once before, in a bout with the present champion, Brennan lost when his bout was stopped in the sixth round. This was due not to a knockout but to the fact that Brennan had broken his ankle. The referee would not let Brennan continue in his crippled condition.

Walker denies he was knocked out on the only occasion when a black mark was registered against him. This was in Terre Haute, a few weeks ago, when he and Tom Gilmore were meeting for the third time in previous bouts neither man had shown to any decided advantage. Walker says. At Terre Haute, in the first round, Walker was hit in the body and claimed a foul. Referee Ed Smith of Chicago declined to allow the claim and the bout was officially recorded as a knockout in round one.

However, the discussion that followed has resulted in the rewatching of the men to settle the argument. They will box in Boston, 10 rounds, Sept. 24.

The Enlisted Men's Club officials have added an attractive program of preliminaries, of which the George Butch-Jimmy Kerna bout is the best. This is a good match and will furnish as much entertainment as the main event.

Five referees, one for each event, have been named. All will act without pay.

Detroit—Clarence Applegram, former University of Illinois guard, signed a contract to play that position with the eleven being organized to represent Detroit in the professional football circuit.

"I Have Been Guilty of Being Ill," Mlle. Lenglen's Reply to Critics

France's Wonderful Tennis Player, Hurt by Accusations of "Quitting" in Match With Mrs. Mallory, Says Collapse Forced Her to Default After One Set.

By Suzanne Lenglen.

Woman Tennis Champion of the World.
(Copyright, 1921.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—I feel the time has come when I must justify myself to the American people, the United States Lawn Tennis Association and the American Committee for Devastated France.

Justify myself? It seems so strange to me that I now find myself in a position where that is necessary. And yet I know of no other way to describe just how I feel unless it would be to say that the idea has become fixed in my mind that I stand accused of some crime—that I have done someone a great injury and that I am facing the bar of justice waiting to know what my punishment is to be.

"I have been called a 'quitter.' It is that which hurts most and which I simply cannot erase from my mind. A 'quitter!' Do you not realize what this means to one who has been trying, trying, trying to do what seemed to be the right thing? Can you not imagine how distressed and humiliated I feel? And do you wonder why it is so difficult for me to recover my composure so that I can go ahead and do the things planned for me?"

Ill When Invited to U. S.
"I came to this country with two great thoughts in mind—to help the work of the American Committee for Devastated France and to satisfy an ambition that had become almost a religion, which was to compete against the women players of America in their own championship and on their own courts. I was still suffering from a severe attack of bronchitis, at the time Miss Anne Morgan spoke to me about the trip, but my health is so good ordinarily and I usually recover from any illness so quickly that I felt confident I should be entirely strong by the time I arrived here. The question of what the outcome might be in the way of success or failure I had considered only as any girl would do in the circumstances.

I have all along refrained from speaking publicly about the reasons that forced my default in that match. I now wish to say to the tennis public that it was beyond human power to prevent it. I went as far as I could and farther than I believed would be possible. In the final games of the set I was suffering unendurable torture. My nervous system had suffered a complete collapse and it was only by the utmost concentration of the will that I was able to keep my feet.

No Disgrace to Default, in France.
It is true that it is contrary to American ethics for a player to default in the middle of a match; but it violates no standards of propriety in my country, although in this instance it would have been the same had it broken every French rule of conduct on the tennis court. I quit in my match with Mrs. Mallory because there was no alternative. I quit and I have been called a quitter for it.

Is there not a great distinction between quitting and being branded a quitter? Is it fair to say that I am lacking in courage because I did a thing which I could not have prevented, no matter how much I might have wanted to? Is it precisely the part of good sportsmanship to regard physical incapacitation as evidence of a faint heart? If I am not mistaken Abe Mitchell, the famous English golfer, who has been touring the United States, withdrew from the recent tournament in Washington. Was Mr. Mitchell called a quitter because he did that? Does anyone reproach him and say that he was a poor sport or that he was temperamental and playing a part? If anyone did, it has escaped attention.

Why I have been singled out for such an attack is hard to understand. If I have committed a crime in being compelled to leave the courts because of physical disability, certainly no one has suffered as much as myself. For three weeks I have done everything in my power to get back into playing condition in order that I may go through with the program to help the American Committee for Devastated France, and up to the present moment I have failed. I regret that I have been guilty of being ill.

We will continue to print pictures of successful entrants until all who complete their quotas before 5 P. M. today have been publicly accorded the same credit that has been given those to whom success came earlier in the campaign.

There will be no announcement tomorrow, but on Saturday we will print the Final Daily Honor Roll, and a group of pictures of Earned Ranger Riders. Another group will be printed Monday, and announcement made then as to further publication of pictures.

The distribution of more than 700 high-grade bicycles in a little more than three months is a noteworthy achievement made possible by the lively interest and excellent effort of boys and girls who responded to our offer, and the co-operation of their parents. The showing is one that reflects creditably on the alert boys and girls of the St. Louis carrier district.

We congratulate them.

Active Industrials Off 1 to 2 Points With Rails About 1 Point Lower—Call Money 4 1/2 Per Cent Early but Later Raised.

By Leased Wire From the New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The financial review today, says the

"An uncertain tone prevailed in the chief financial markets with speculative sentiment less bullish.

There was a general feeling of the close and this extended over all parts of the list. Active industrials showed numerous losses of 1 and 2 points while rails were off about 1 point. Trading was on a moderate scale. Call money which opened at 5 per cent was lowered to 4 1/2 per cent at noon and returned to 5 at the start of last hour. Whereas the Government expected to collect in the neighborhood of $525,000,000 in income tax payments it is redeeming today and is paying about $100,000,

000 in interest. Furthermore instant credit is given member banks on certificates at the banks while tax checks orderly are some little time in returning for payment.

Sterling is irregular.

The weakness in the exchanges was pronounced at the start, with business active, but was succeeded by a good rally. Sterling sold as low as $12.65, but later at $12.70, showed gains of 1/4 cent to 3/4 cent. French francs opened at 6.90 cents and advanced to 7.02. German marks touched a new low of 8.90 cents and then recorded a net gain of 1/4 point at 0.92. Remittance on Hungary Slavia marked a cent and those on Jugoslavians equalled the previous low of 0.18. The tone of the market was uncertain.

"Cotton prices were consistently lower. A considerable volume of liquidation was explained on the basis of Southern selling, reports of good weather and a rather sharp reaction at Liverpool. This behavior followed several days of preceding speculative activity and is consistent with the market's attempt to adjust itself on the basis of the underlying trade position. The December future after fluctuation over a range of about 40 points showed a loss of 40 points at the close of 1921 cents. Wheat displayed an uncertain tone, reports of rains in Argentina and a decline in foreign exchange sending December down to $1.24 1/2. A subsequent rally carried the price back to $1.30 at which the net loss was 1/2 cent.

Bank of England Rate 1/2.

A recovery of 1/2 per cent in the Bank of England's proportion of reserve brings the figure to 15.0 per cent and wipes out the week's decline. Circulation is lower by

1,200,000 and a corresponding amount has been added to reserve.

Deposits are less by 1,000,000 and the rate of discount is unchanged.

What has happened evidently is that the Government has been able to pay a substantial part of the amounts recently borrowed in order to meet interest payments on the foreign loan. The fact that the Government renewed talk has been heard of an order reduction in the bank rate

Good Housewives Have Few Fires

Advice on Prevention by National Board of Fire Underwriters.

It is axiomatic that the home of the careful, conscientious housewife seldom is visited by fire, and she never permits the accumulation of rubbish nor allows other conditions to exist which are likely to be the cause of a fire.

Every housewife should insist, in the interest of her family's safety, that the heating and cooking appliances of the home should be made as safe as possible. She should see that the stove, if it is not the built-in kind, stands at least eight inches from the wall and above the floor, and that the nearest woodwork is protected with sheet metal or asbestos board. If metal is used, there should be an air space behind it. Smokepipes should be ventilated metal chimneys and should be at least eight inches from the ceiling or woodwork. Chimneys containing accumulations of soot are likely to overheat and cause fire, and they should be cleaned thoroughly at least once a year.

The housewife should never permit kerosene or other inflammable materials to be hung close to the stove. Wet clothing, also, if placed near a heater or open fire, is liable to become ignited. Ashes should never be put into wooden receptacles. The coals are often very hot when they are thought to be burned out, and may smolder for hours and then burst into flame. No one is about. There was a small fire in a wooden box on a porch started a fire that destroyed almost the entire house.

Often fires occur in the kitchen. The ignition of grease on the stove is one of the most common causes of fire. A saucpan cover is effective when the fire is small.

Another source of danger is the improperly constructed fireless cook-stove. The insulating fire should be of some sandy or rocky nature, and should be made of excellent paper, ground cork or other insulating material.

"Children and matches" form a very frequent cause of fire. The frequency among the list of causes. Practically all reports made by the various state fire marshals contain this item. Matches of the kind which are sold in boxes of 100 are very dangerous. Instead of being kept in a metal receptacle, they are often kept in a box of matches, and the result is that the little children get hold of them and set fire to the house.

There was a little boy in a Massachusetts town who was killed by his mother when she was alone in the house. When she found him dead upon the kitchen floor, his clothing burned. The evidence indicated that he had been playing with matches. The only unusual cause of the occurrence was that the boy himself did not catch fire.

There are something over 700,000 matches sold in this country every day, and each one contains the possibility of a conflagration. That fact should always be kept in mind.

Matches, lamps, candles and other flame lights are all exceedingly dangerous when used to illuminate a closet where there is easily inflammable material. The smoking habit constitutes one of our chief fire causes, and every mother should educate the children to consume in a dignified and safe manner. Cigar and cigarette ends, pipe "heels" are very dangerous. A realization of the fact that matches and smoking are the cause of a loss of over $18,000,000 a year should stir the hand of the most careless.

Spontaneous combustion is another danger which the housewife should be on guard against. The frequency with which it occurs is generally overlooked. It develops about the same usually from the presence of dust, certain "dustless" dusts and paint, rags, although some of the most dangerous are also easily ignited. Place the peppers in a safe place. The peppers should either be destroyed or kept in metal containers. Rubbish should never be allowed to pile up in the cellar or elsewhere, as it is a fire hazard, and when it is piled up it holds the additional hazard of spontaneous combustion. Even ordinary accumulations of old furniture, clothes, papers and similar materials offer a waiting opportunity for the chance of a fire.

Philadelphia Pepper Hash
N old-time cold meat relish is called pepper hash. To make it, place in a kettle one quart of chopped white peppers, seeds and stems discarded, one quart of chopped white cabbage and one pint of water, let come to a boil, remove from the fire and drain off the liquor. Place the peppers and cabbage back in the kettle and add strong vinegar to cover, a tablespoon of mustard seed, two tablespoons of celery seed, one teaspoon of salt, and a cup of onion sugar. Bring to a boil and cook 15 minutes. Bottle and seal with cork.

The Sleeping Companion

FOURTH INSTALLMENT.

So Inspector Mordan, vastly to his satisfaction, was told, and Superintendent Bell, who was sitting in the room where he had heard, and agreed to search the house for the stolen jewels. "You gentlemen come too, please," he cocked an eye at Reggie.

"Want to keep me under observation?" Reggie grinned back. "Want you to identify what we find," said the Inspector.

"You'll find something all right," said Reggie. "But he showed little interest in the search, mooning after their men in and out of servants' bedrooms and yawning in corners. Inspector Mordan had gone straight to Miss Weston's room, and from there he came glowing with triumph. He called for his Superintendent, he collected Reggie and Gordon. "You gentlemen happen to recognize that?" He opened his big hand and showed the ring with the big emerald which Birdie Bolton had loved.

"That's it," Gordon cried. "That's Birdie's. Cool! What a stone, ain't it?" "In Weston's room," the Inspector proclaimed, "on the floor; just under the bed, in Weston's room."

"Only that and nothing more," Reggie murmured. "Yes, where's the rest, Mordan?" said Supt. Bell.

The Inspector smote his thigh. "By George, I see it! I let that rascal Ford see the watch alone. He's gone off stuffed with the swag."

"That's a thought," Reggie admitted, and the Superintendent lifted an eyebrow at him. "You ought to have Ford watched. No, I mean it. If I was you, Inspector, I'd have his place watched night and day."

The Inspector was visibly gratified. "I know my business, thank you," he said. "I say, doctor—it is growing, isn't it?" "Oh, yes, as if it was forced," Reggie smiled.

"What do you mean?" The Inspector flushed. "You see, you're too witty, Mordan," said the Superintendent.

"And that's that," Reggie yawned. "You don't really want me any more, do you? Inspector—I don't want you to be disappointed. The murder wasn't done in that room where you found the body. Good-bye!"

watched him, doctor. Nothing doing. "Set a man to stand on his doorstep, I suppose. What's the good of that?" "As you say," the Superintendent agreed. "We've picked up one thing, though. Just before the murder his father turned him down for wanting to marry this girl Weston. He hasn't a penny except from his father. The girl and the girl. It does grow, you know, doctor."

"Queer case," Reggie grunted. "Going to the inquest? Sorry I can't drive you down. My chauffeur's taking a day off."

So they walked to the Coroner's court, and on the way Supt. Bell used his large experience in the art of extracting confidences in plain. But Reggie mellowed, perceptibly mellowed, as he baffled Supt. Bell.

The court was crowded to its last inch. The Coroner was conscious of his importance, and made the most of it in a loud, blustering way. But Reggie mellowed, perceptibly mellowed, as he baffled Supt. Bell.

"What a life, ain't it?" Mr. Gordon murmured in Reggie's ear. "At last came what the evening papers called 'Dramatic Evidence.' The household who had found the body and had hysterics over again as she described it; Mrs. Betts, who had found May Weston sleeping beside it, waked her, and heard her say, 'I did it—oh, I did it!'"

"Sensation in Court" was the cry. The Coroner looked over his glasses at the jury, and the jury muttered together, and May Weston came into the box. With the manner of a chaplain at an execution, the Coroner warned her that she need not give answers that would incriminate her. "I want to tell you everything," she said. She was very pale in her black, and listless of manner, but quite calm.

What she told was the queer story she had told Reggie, but she was not allowed to tell it her own way. The Coroner badgered her with continuing questions designed to make the queerest of it seem queerer. He made her nervous, confused her, frightened her. "You bother me so that I don't know if I'm telling the truth or not," she quavered.

Then, in the language of the newspapers, "another sensation." Mr. Ford, large and red, started up and roared, "I ought to be there, sir. Let her alone. I ought to be there."

Reggie bit his head between his hands and bowed himself, groaning. Every one else was much excited by Mr. Ford. He was pulled down from his seat. The Coroner rebuked him with awful majesty. The foreman of the jury wanted to know if he would be called. The Coroner pronounced that the court would not certainly require Mr. Ford to explain himself—and came back to May Weston.

"The fool that he is, he's done the trick, though," Reggie muttered to Mr. Gordon and Gordon nodded and grinned. For after the interruption the Coroner handled May Weston much more gently, almost indulgently, as a good man sorry for a woman's weakness. And he was soon done with her.

"Any questions?" He looked at the lawyers. Reggie bent forward and whispered to the solicitor appearing for Miss Weston.

That large, bland man stood up, and said, "I have no questions, your honor."

"No more questions, sir," the large solicitor said down smiling. "The Coroner was wisely unable to understand him, and made a great business with his papers. It was now long after tea-time. 'I suppose we shan't finish today, gentlemen?' the Coroner suggested.

"Quite impossible, sir," said the large solicitor cheerfully. "I have some long medical evidence. Dr. Fortune, Miss Bolton's physician. The first medical man who saw the body after the murder."

The Court rose. Reggie, with Gordon at his heels, went out by the solicitor's door and found Superintendent Bell waiting for him. "Now are you playing the game, doctor?" said Superintendent Bell sadly.

"For keeps," Reggie laughed. "Come and dine with me. Bring Mordan. He's so genial."

"We do have to take these little things so seriously," the superintendent murmured. "But a party of four, the superintendent and the large inspector, Reggie and the little Jew, packed themselves into a taxicab and drove into the city. Reggie was full of elegant conversation. He grew irate and told them all about his, with appendices on the costumes in review.

Once or twice Superintendent Bell tried to turn his attention to serious subjects. Vainly. At last Inspector Mordan broke out with, "I say, doctor, what's the wheeze about the coffee?"

"The inspector touches the spot," said the superintendent. The taxi, which had for some little time been running through the city, seemed to intend coming out on the other side—a locality promising no good dinner. As he spoke, it turned into Liverpool Street Station.

"Liverpool Street, by George!" the inspector said. "This is a bean feast. Going to take us to Epping Forest, doctor?" "We may have to go farther," Reggie said. "Don't know. Now are you in this, sir?" the inspector turned on him.

"Professional secret, dear boy," Reggie led the way to the station dining room. "Don't know the law, but let's hope for the best. A tryin' day, an active evening. Strength is what we need. Strength without somnolence. Salmon, I see. Lamb chops, I would add. One of your younger ducks would comfort me. Do you sleep after Burgundy, Inspector? A warm night, as you say. Larose is a genial celer. Let us all be genial."

"We're a bit supercilious," the inspector complained. "To be continued in the Post-Dispatch Tomorrow."

Uncommon Sense

Acquire Useful Interests

YOU have seen both men and women who were more interested in the neighborhood gossip than they were in the education of their children.

Listen to the morning talk on a commutation train. It is about prize fights, baseball scores, the newest golf match and the latest scandal. In Pullman smokers men talk for hours about the weather, which they cannot change, and for other hours about the food in hotels and the fact that President Harding has got a new stepmother.

The small talk of a man is indicative of his interests to some extent. If it were wholly indicative of them, there would be little hope for him.

It is perfectly natural to be interested to some degree in your immediate surroundings, even though they may not be important. But, if you find you are spending more thought on the clothes of the women next door than of ways and means to draw a better salary next year, it is time to revise your interests.

Really, you can become interested in anything you want to. It is just as easy to think and talk about the work you are doing as about the various makes of automobiles and the various performances in hill climbing and fuel consumption.

You learn a great deal in conversation. Therefore, if you converse with intelligent people on intelligent topics, your mind is continually expanding.

We say nothing about unintelligent people, because you never can be sure that the man you are talking to is unintelligent. He may be stupid, but he may be faulty, and he may mispronounce words that you have learned how to pronounce. Nevertheless, he may be able to tell you a great deal about something that he understands and you do not.

Find out in your talk, what he knows most about and get him to tell you about that. He is a poor talker if you cannot learn something from him.

Possessing intelligent interest will stimulate your thought and your curiosity. You will begin to think hard, to learn to learn.

You will discover that you have twice as much time for self-improvement as you supposed you had. The hours most of us idle away in useless talk and speculation would make a thinking man and a master of a profession.

A man is as broad as his interests. It is worth his while to get good at one thing, and to use them for the benefit of his future and of the future of his descendants.

WAYS TO USE GRAPES

IN these days of home canning, preserving and jelly making, the thoughtful housewife will remember that grapes rank with apples in point of concentrated health value.

There are countries where grapes enjoy the popularity of mineral waters. In fact, the grape is a natural tonic. The grape is a natural tonic. The grape is a natural tonic.

The grape is a most versatile fruit. It is produced in almost every State in the Union. It is not only delicious when fresh, but may be canned and kept indefinitely. Grape jams and jellies hold our list of preserves, and nearly every woman knows how to make the beverage that has gained such favor in social gatherings and in the home.

The variety grown most commonly east of the Rocky Mountains is the Concord. It is easily obtained, and for nearly all purposes to which grapes are put, it is eminently satisfactory.

Child Training at Home

This is one of a series of articles issued by the National Kindergarten Association.

Play-Utility of the Card-board Box

By Mrs. Richard K. Thomas.

HAVE you a cardboard box in the house? If you have two, all the better, a half-dozen, better still, for whether you are a mother with one child or a half-dozen, ranging from 6 months to 12 years old, you will never find yourself at a loss when the old toys play, or the baby is restless.

Of course, the box must have qualifications, and a few accessories are necessary, according to the ages of your children. The accessories are so simple that any household may have them, and the children may make them.

As early as six to 12 months, baby tires of his rattle. Give him the lid of a clean white box, or make two slits and tie his rattle to it. It will never cease to amuse him anew. Do not forget the qualifications, clean and white. Then if he puts it in his mouth it will do him no harm.

In his second year the child will enjoy a whole box or several boxes which he can take apart. Also give him a large lid, into which his toys may be piled and turned out again. The child of 2 or 3 years begins to want accessories. A string attached to a box makes it into a fine wagon for the children themselves.

At the kindergarten age a pair of scissors, at your suggestion, and a few paper fasteners, which you help adjust, awaken new possibilities. Boxes of less stiff and heavy cardboard are more adaptable to the scissors. Wagons with wheels that turn, or tables and chairs with legs are a result. One big box in which to put the furniture serves as a doll house. The suggestions that follow the idea of a "house for dolls" will be amply forthcoming from the children themselves.

With another and another year, while hands grow better trained, possibilities widen rapidly. All kinds of furniture (made without your assistance), rows of houses, stores, a whole community, in fact, may be the outcome. Your big boys and girls can find endless amusement indoors or out, making their own accessories, and collecting the boxes themselves.

Further suggestions are unnecessary. They are for the children themselves to make. You will find more are able to make them much more rapidly than you can yourself.

What I wish to impress upon you who are mothers or even you who know children whose play materials are limited, is the value of weighing the "play-utility" of an article before you discard it. The boxes themselves, and the things which hold possibilities for the training or entertainment of your child. And save, at least, the cardboard box.

With the fall of ancient civilizations, the obelisk of Egypt decayed and everything about that country was forgotten. Finally, at the instigation of Napoleon, scientists undertook to solve these secrets and aroused interest in that long forgotten country.

The obelisk was given to the United States by Egypt and was transported here at the expense of the late W. H. Vanderbilt. It was erected in 1881. The obelisk stands upon a base of the original, which are in the Metropolitan Museum. In the museum, too, a model is to be seen showing how the obelisk was lowered and raised into position. It is 67 feet high and weighs 110 tons. It is hard to realize that when it was erected Moses had not been born; that not one being in Europe could read or write; indeed, that Greece, Rome, England had never even been heard of.

Wash and cut grapes for the bunch, leaving a bit of stem on each. Make a syrup with a quart of water to each pound of sugar. Place the fruit in heated jars in an outer vessel of cold water and let heat gradually. Fill nearly full with syrup and let cook 10 minutes; add more syrup and seal immediately. White grapes or seedless grapes are a real delicacy when prepared this way.

An excellent grape jam may be prepared in this way: Heat grapes over boiling water until soft, then simmer gently 30 minutes. Let cool a little and press through colander. Cook together, simmering and stirring carefully until it thickens into jam consistency. Then place it in small jars. Either ripe or green grapes, or half and half, may be used.

The Daily Burgess Bedtime Story

What Happened When the Little Apple Fell.

By Thornton W. Burgess.

A little thing we do not see May change the world for you and me—Stripped Chipmunk.

BLACK Pussy had waited patiently for a very long time in the hot sun, waiting without moving save for the tip of her tail, close to the little round hole in the middle of the path on one side of the Old Orchard. She had felt sure that if only she were patient enough and waited long enough, Stripped Chipmunk would come out of that little round hole. Now the patience in Black Pussy's yellow eyes gave place to a look of eager fierceness, the tip of her tail twitched more than ever, the sharp claws of her front paws came out of hiding and she made ready for a sudden spring. Her ears had caught just the faintest of sounds, but she knew what they meant. They meant that Stripped Chipmunk was running along his little hall under ground and in a second that particular instant, to her out of that little round hole.

Now, Stripped Chipmunk seldom is heedless. He knows that heedlessness is the cause of much trouble and not infrequently costs some of his life. So Stripped Chipmunk has always made it a point to look before he leaps. But this particular time he forgot. Or if he didn't forget he was in too much of a hurry to be careful, which was quite as bad. Anyway, instead of poking just his nose and eyes out for a look all around to see that all was safe, as is his rule, he scrambled up to that little round doorway and popped out.

Several things happened just then, but the most important thing was the falling of a certain little apple from a certain branch high above the path. Weakened by a little worm in his heart, it chose just that instant, that particular instant, to go flying high into the air and drop. Down it fell straight and true and landed—where do you think? Right smack on the head of Black Pussy just as she started to spring. Stripped Chipmunk! Yes, sir, that is just what happened!

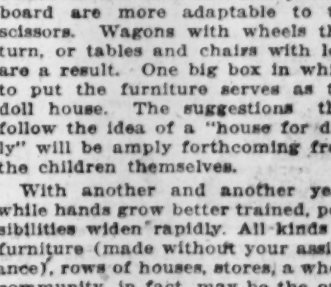

Thump. That certain little apple, wherein lived a certain little worm, landed on the head of Black Pussy just as she started to spring. For just a second she lost sight of Stripped Chipmunk. Instead, it seemed to her as she saw ever so many little stars. And, of course, she missed that spring. When she could see clearly again Stripped Chipmunk was running along his little hall under ground and in a second that particular instant, to her out of that little round hole.

Black Pussy looked all about to see what hit her. Her head ached and she was frightened. She suspected that her master, Farmer Brown's Boy, had discovered what she was doing and had thrown something at her. But Farmer Brown's Boy was nowhere to be seen. Nobody was to be seen. The Old Orchard was as quiet and peaceful as ever it had been. A certain little apple lay close beside the path, but little apples were lying all about on the ground and Black Pussy didn't even look at this certain little apple. She growled at Stripped Chipmunk and then turned and snaked away in a hurry toward Farmer Brown's barn.

Stripped Chipmunk came out on the old stone wall and watched her go. And all the time he scolded as only he and his cousin, Chatterer the Red Squirrel, can. And even in that certain little apple a certain little worm was on eating and eating and never guessing that he had saved the life of Stripped Chipmunk. And Stripped Chipmunk never guessed it, either. It is often that way in this Great World.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By James J. Montague.

ADDRESS TO A CABBAGE.

"Flowers and vegetables will only grow for people who like them."
A Gardener.

I've tried, dear cabbage, how I've tried!
To rouse your interest in me.
The hoe I patiently have plied;
With lime and phosphate I've been free;
I've tended you in rain and sun;
I've toiled until the twilight dim;
There's nothing that I haven't done
To gratify your lightest whim.
And yet you always seem to all;
Dependent on your stalk you sit,
Your leaves awry, your stage pale;
You do not care for me a bit.

The beans and peas, which I neglect
As daily gardenward I go,
Are not like you in this respect;
I love them not, but how they grow!
They thrust their leaves up toward the skies
Their vines hang thick with swelling pods.
Day in day out they rise and rise
As creatures summoned by the Gods.
And yet I always pass them by,
As sadly for my step they wait,
They're very fond of me, but I
Their love do not reciprocate.

Dear cabbage, fair aristocrat,
You will not hearken to my plea.
Yet truly, life is much like that.
Those I have loved have not loved me.
While those whose love I do not deem Worth winning, always strive to please,
And vainly vie for my esteem.
Exactly like the beans and peas.
A deep affection is but vain,
It always meets with a rebuff,
What we don't want is all we gain;
Dear cabbage, life is pretty tough!
